Vanish From Winthrop After Failing to Win Release From Marital Bonds

Winthrop learned today that Harry Sinclair of No. 38 Sturgis street, a conductor on the Narrow Gauge road, and Mrs. Florence Dilling of No. 46 Tewksbury street, wife of William Dilling, bookkeeper for the Island Lumber Company, No. 200 Devonshire street, were missing.

Sinclair, whose wife, an extremely pretty blonde, seemed devoted to him, and Mrs. Dilling left notes to their respective spouses, stating that they had gone away together, finding that each was the soulmate of the other.

What makes the case still more remarkable is the fact that, according to neighbors, Mrs. Dilling some time ago plainly told Mrs. Sinclair that she was in love with the latter's husband, and asked her to give Sinclair up. It is also said that Sinclair went to Dilling with a similar statement, adding that if Dilling "was a good sport" he would give up his wife.

It is said that Dilling was apparently expecting something of the

3 WOMEN RESCUED AT FIRE

Trapped in Springfield Lodging House; Two Firemen Hurt at Another Fire

Springfield, April 2.—Three women were carried down ladders at a fire in a four-story lodging house at No. 57 Dwight street, and two firemen were injured at a blaze at Nos. 47-49 Taylor street today.

The fires started simultaneously. The damage at the Dwight street house was $10,000 and at the Taylor street block $20,000.

Miss Annie Olsen, Mrs. Francis Bailey and Mrs. Edna Hines were trapped on the third floor of the lodging house. Firemen carried them down ladders.

The fire spread to the Springfield Harness Factory, next door. The flames were subdued after an hour's fight.

The fire on Taylor street was in the building occupied by the Emerson Paper Box Company, a five-story structure, where Captain Harold Shine and Hoseman Thomas Martin were overcome and trapped on the third floor.

Martin tried to drag Shine to safety, and fell down a flight of stairs. Firemen heard their cries and took them to the street.

The Russell Machine Company occupied the first three floors of the building and suffered heavily from water.

LARCENY OF SILVER ALLEGED

Mrs. Bridie McIntyre Charged With Thefts From Copley-Plaza

What the police say was a conspiracy of considerable proportions to loot the silver closets and linen rooms of the Copley-Plaza was disclosed today by the arrest of Mrs. Bridie McIntyre, twenty-eight, in her room at No. 374 Columbus avenue.

Mrs. McIntyre was charged with the larceny of silver and linen worth $1,000. It is probable, the police say, that this charge will be changed to that of receiving stolen goods, and that several hotel employes will be arrested.

The woman's arrest was brought about by the detective work of Special Officer Frank McNab of the Back Bay station, who impersonated a laundryman, to get into her room.

A considerable portion of the booty was found there, according to Officer McNab. It included towels, sheets, pillowcases, table covers, knives, forks and spoons.

Mrs. McIntyre has not been employed at the hotel, which leads the police to believe that she acted as "receiver" for property stolen by hotel attaches.

The hotel management estimates the total loss by this kind of pilfering in the last five weeks will amount to from $1,500 to $2,000.

VANDERLIP OPPOSES U. S. LOANS TO EUROPE

Chicago, April 2.—Further loans by the United States to European nations are opposed by Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank of New York. "At least another year will have to pass before a number of the nations of Europe obtain political stability," said Mr. Vanderlip. "It will be time enough then for American banking interests to consider loans to Europe, and even then it will be premature for official negotiations. Financial conditions in Europe are unhealthy."

R. R. WAGE MEETING FAILS

Wilson Receives Appeal From Leaders Against Bipartisan Board Attitude

By International News Service.

Washington, April 2.—Railroad union executives this afternoon notified President Wilson that the conference of the bipartisan wage board had failed of "beneficial results" and the attitude of the carriers forced the railroad workers to appeal to the labor board, the members of which have not yet been appointed.

They charged the carriers with full responsibility for the failure of the bi-partisan board and declined for the present to join with them in the appointment of committees to prepare data for presentation to the labor board.

Letters exchanged between H. M. Jewell, chairman of the employes' conference committee, and E. T. Whitter, acting for the carriers, were submitted to the President.

Jewell's letter in reply to one from Whitter suggesting that the conferences be called off and the wage demands of the men be left to the labor board, charges that the committee failed "to carry out the wishes of the President of the United States" and had declined "to comply with the plain provisions of the law and assume the responsibility of railroad managements with regard thereto."

"The attitude of your committee," says the letter, "comes as a surprise to us all and will result in keen disappointment to our constituents as well as the general public, both of whom are parties at interest and entitled to more consideration from the bipartisan board than you have elected to give."

Whitter's letter states that the carriers' committee had come to the conclusion that the railroads could not assume the responsibility of adding such a burden to the costs of transportation excepting with the full knowledge and consent of the public.

land of the Lord's Day League, and other opponents.

In outlining his stand toward the legislation, he said:

"The question here is as to whether people should be held criminally liable for doing the things which would now be made legal under the act.

"I am not interested in Sunday baseball, and would not allow my children to play it, but that is not the question."

The signing by the Governor makes it optional with communities whether they will authorize Sunday sports between the hours of 2 and 6 in the afternoon.

Sports not included in the meaning of the measure are boxing, horse and automobile racing and hunting with firearms. All those competing in the sports must be amateurs, and no fee must be charged, either directly or indirectly.

The bill, with the emergency preamble making it effective immediately, passed both branches of the Legislature yesterday by large majorities. Today a last-minute attempt to defeat it was made by Representative Robinson of Somerville, who asked that it be recalled from the Governor's desk.

Before signing the bill, Governor Coolidge gave a long audience to the opponents of the legislation, marshalled by Rev. Mr. Kneeland.

Rev. E. B. Robinson of Holyoke, an advocate of healthful Sunday sports, exploded a bombshell in the meeting when he declared that hundreds of priests and ministers, including Governor Coolidge's own pastor, Rev. Kenneth B. Welles of Northampton, were in favor of the bill.

U. S. Declared War on Good Friday, 1917

Close followers of current events recalled today what a doubly solemn occasion was the Good Friday of three years ago, when the declaration of war was passed by the House in Congress and signed later in the day by President Wilson. In that year Good Friday fell on April 6.

It was also on Good Friday, one year later, that the German "Big Berths" brought one of the days of greatest terror to Paris, shelling that city and killing a number of worshippers in a church. An American woman was among those killed.

Albany, N. JUDGE WILL JAIL DRINK DEALERS

Prisoners Fined in Federal Court Are Warned Against Second Offence

One man was fined $200 for selling a pint of gin and another fined $10 for possessing it by Judge James M. Morton, Jr., in the Federal Court today. The court imposed fines of from $1 to $250 on persons charged with handling liquor, and some of the defendants were warned that a second offence would land them in jail without option of a fine.

Peter Mochevetes of Lowell was fined $200 for selling a pint of gin, and Joseph Berube, also of that city, paid $10 for the sale of pale suints. He was specifically charged with aiding and abetting in sale of intoxicating liquor.

Edward Nuiman, a Fall River tailor, was fined and paid $250 for transferring "moonshine." Samuel Peck of Providence was fined $25 for aiding with his auto truck in the transfer of the "moonshine" for Nulman and David Primack, also of Providence, and Peck a helper on the auto was fined $1.

Nulman, the authorities alleged, went to a man in Westport, outside Fall River, and purchased a large amount of "moonshine." He tendered the vendor a check ostensibly for $750, but which turned out to be for only $7, and at that the check was returned "no funds." Judge Morton told Nulman he would send him to prison if convicted again.

Cases against five defendants charged with violation of the liquor law were not prossed. They are:

Stratis Paraskevokontes of Lynn, Antonio Calabro of Cambridge, Benjamin Santisuso, Vincent Rontoni and Joseph Caruso, all of Boston.

Additional liquor complaints will be heard by Judge Morton.

sort, and has been very nervous of late.

Both couples are in their early thirties and have lived at Winthrop Beach about three years. The families had been very intimate, playing cards and dining frequently at each other's house. The two women were particularly friendly. It is said, and spent much time in each other's company.

The Sinclairs were formerly on the stage, playing in vaudeville under the name of "The Russells." They were to all outward appearances a most devoted couple. Mrs. Sinclair frequently met her husband's trains, bringing his lunch, rain coat on rainy days and doing similar things.

In the note which he left, telling her of his elopement with Mrs. Dilling, Sinclair thanks his wife for her kindness during their married life.

Mrs. Sinclair was to have met her husband at noon at Rowe's wharf. She waited until 2 o'clock and then went to the office of the railroad, where she was told that he had drawn his pay and resigned from the service of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn, saying he was going away.

Mr. Dilling did not discover his wife's elopement until the week's end from work. He found a note, saying that Mrs. Dilling had gone away with Sinclair as she was satisfied that she had found her proper mate.

Starts Drive Against 'Wildcat' Stocks

That persons residing in Plymouth and Bristol counties might be warned against speculating in wildcat stocks and other securities hardly worth the paper on which they are printed the Chamber of Commerce of Taunton and Plymouth has entered into an extensive circular advertising campaign.

The circular tells its own story:

Now Being Organized to Start a Cat Ranch in California.

We will collect 100,000 female cats. Each cat will average to have twelve kittens a year. Cat skins sell for an average profit of 30 cents each. One hundred men can skin 5,000 cats a day. We figure a daily net profit of over $10,000.

HOW FEED THE CATS—We shall start a rat ranch with one million rats, next door, and as rats are bred four times as fast as cats, we shall have four rats a day for each cat, which will be plenty.

NOW, GET THIS—We will feed the rats on the carcasses of the cats which have been skinned.

SAFETY FIRST

MARTIAL LAW FOR IRELAND

Orders to Shoot at Sight Expected on Eve of Uprising Anniversary

London, April 2.—With warships cruising off the Irish coast and 35,000 troops garrisoned at the vital centres throughout the island, the British government does not anticipate a concerted rising in Ireland Easter Sunday.

The moderate element among the Sinn Fein leaders, it is learned, opposes repetition of the 1916 rebellion, knowing it could be easily crushed by England and would merely be a bloody fiasco.

Nevertheless, the British forces in Ireland are on the alert and every precautionary measure is being taken not only to suppress a fresh revolt, but also to deal effectively with a new epidemic of "gang" outrages such as have marked the last few months.

EXPECT MARTIAL LAW.

Martial law is expected to be declared tonight, with orders to the police and military to shoot at sight any civilians seen in the streets after 9 o'clock.

Sir Edward Carson's revelation in the House of Commons that a "murder squad" had left the United States to assassinate him, was followed by an apparently well founded story to the effect that prior to the recent christening of his son the Ulsterite leader received mysterious warnings that his life was in danger.

The government, it is said, appealed to him to hold a private ceremony and not expose himself. Sir Edward refused and, according to the story, nearly half of the guests that attended the public ceremony were disguised Scotland Yard detectives.

RAIDS IN KILKENNY.

A number of police and military raids took place in various parts of southern Ireland, notably in Kilkenny. Search was made for arms and incriminating documents. Several arrests were made.

Premier Lloyd George, Ian Macpherson and Sir Edward Carson all are said to have received "Black Cross" warnings reading: "Prepare to die." The premier left today for his native Wales, under heavy guard.

George Bernard Shaw has left for Ireland to discuss the situation with Sir Horace Plunkett.

WOMEN SEE HOPE IN DELAWARE

Miss Paul Believes State's Lawmakers Will "Follow Will of the People"

By International News Service.

Washington, April 2—The suffrage fight in Delaware is not lost yet. That was the message Miss Alice Paul of the National Woman's Party brought today when she returned from Dover, where the lower House of the Delaware Legislature defeated ratification of the suffrage amendment.

A motion for reconsideration of the vote by which ratification was defeated will be introduced early next week, Miss Paul stated.

"The sentiment for ratification throughout the State is steadily increasing, and the Legislature, we are confident, must sooner or later follow the will of the people of the State," she added.

Governor Bickett of North Carolina has promised a special session of the Legislature in June or July, and suffrage leaders here feel that with President Wilson's support they can secure ratification in North Carolina. It is also felt that the President's influence could assure ratification by Louisiana. Defeat in Delaware has led to new talk of the formation of a woman's party to go into the field against the old line parties.

FINED $25 FOR ASSAULT ON POLICE OFFICER

Following the failure of a West End crowd to rescue him from the police, Anthony Delgoldi was arraigned in Municipal Court today, charged with assault upon an officer. Special Officer Bresnahan of Station 18 testified that it was only at the point of drawn revolvers that he and brother officers forced back the mob and made the arrest. Delgoldi's head was split with a policeman's club. He was brought to court from the Relief Hospital. Judge Bennett imposed a $25 fine after he pleaded guilty.

STRIKE MAY PUT OUT 60,000

Lynn Factories Near Closing for Lack of Coal; Teamsters Refuse to Yield

Lynn manufacturers are flying the flag of distress, and, unless the strike of teamsters and coal handlers is settled within a week, about 60,000 workers will be thrown out of employment because of a shut-down due to lack of coal, according to a statement issued by the Chamber of Commerce today.

William A. Nealey, business manager of the union, declared that "there was no change in the state of affairs since yesterday."

The 250 striking teamsters are out to enforce their demands for a $7 a week increase in wages. At a meeting of the union today it was voted that the union make it a duty to see that hospitals and all needy people were supplied with coal.

The shoe factories, in danger of closing down, employ nearly 40,000 workers; the General Electric Company at West Lynn has 17,000 in its employ.

It is claimed that coal dealers here are making about 50 per cent. profit. It was stated that coal, according to the government figures, cost but $7.52 a ton, delivered to the wharves. Manufacturers declare they are forced to pay $11.50 a ton for soft coal which dealers $6.32. Hard coal sells for $14.

INQUEST OF ARLINGTON ELECTIONS WEDNESDAY

The inquest of the Arlington elections will be held in the Third District Court at Cambridge Wednesday. It was announced today, with a representative of the attorney-general in charge. Sensational developments at the hearing were predicted by friends of Frank C. Gardner, a candidate for the Arlington Board of Public Works, who filed the petition for the inquest. Gardner charged that candidates were permitted to stand near the voting booths, that other candidates acted as clerks in the tabulation of ballots and other irregularities. Sixteen witnesses have been summoned.

Arrest 15 Sinn Fein M. P.'s; Warrants Out for Others

Dublin, April 2.—Fifteen Sinn Fein members of Parliament are in British jails on the eve of Easter, the fourth anniversary of the great uprising which laid the foundations for the spread of the Republican party. Formal charges have been brought only against one of the fifteen. Several of the prisoners are on a "hunger strike." Warrants are out for the arrests of all other Sinn Fein Parliamentarians, except six, who are classed as comparatively "moderate."

$690 OF TEACHERS' PAY VANISHES IN HAMILTON

CROKER BOYS SAY STEP-MOTHER WAS NOTED BROADWAY 'VAMPIRE'

DECLARE HER CLAIM TO INDIAN ANCESTRY IS FALSE

New York, April 2.—Aged Richard Croker, most powerful political boss in the history of New York, is alleged to have been "vamped" six years ago into a second matrimonial venture by Beula Benton Edmonson.

The alleged "vamping" continued even after the marriage and has been so successful that a large part of the old Tammany leader's $10,000,000 estate is already in the actual possession of the young "parlor entertainer," who has been widely heralded on both sides of the Atlantic as a lineal descendant of Sequoyah, poet-chief of the Cherokee tribe of Indians.

These are among the sensational allegations in suits filed by Mr. Croker's children in the Circuit Court of Florida, in Palm Beach County, to have a guardian or committee appointed to take charge of the ex-boss's financial affairs.

While Mr. Croker, now in his eightieth year, planned prompt rejoiner to the court action, William F. McCombs, attorney for the children, made public in this city additional papers filed in support of the injunction granted in the Florida courts.

The papers—the general complaint (signed by Howard Croker) and affidavits of Howard and Richard Croker, Jr.—paint a vivid picture of a fascinating young woman's influence over an old multi-millionaire.

It is alleged that Beula Edmondson married Croker solely for his money, after making false representations to him that she was then but twenty-three years of age, and was of royal Indian blood, a direct descendant of Chief Sequoyah. The complaint continues:

Said defendant falsely represented to him that she was a woman of culture, refinement and good reputation. And by reason of charms and smooth manner, ingratiating ways, seductive methods and her subtle devices and deceit, she quickly worked herself into the love, confidence and affection of the said Richard Croker, Sr., who, through lack of mentality and by reason of her undue influence, believed such false representations and pretensions and soon became helpless in her toils."

The complaint, continuing, attacks Mrs. Croker's character, alleging, as does Richard Croker, Jr., in a supporting affidavit, that the Tammany chieftain before marriage was "a well known character along Broadway and was a familiar figure in Broadway resorts."

Mr. McCombs told the American that a mass of documentary and other evidence will be produced in the bulwark these words of the complaint:

"The defendant was a person lacking in refinement, culture and good character, and, prior to the said marriage received the intimate attentions and pecuniary support of other men, and failed to disclose fully represented them to other persons to be relatives, in order to deceive such other persons as to the true existing relationship between them.

"The defendant was not twenty-three years of age, as claimed by her at the time of the marriage, but was about the age of thirty-one."

WANTS PROPERTY GUARDED.

The complaint asks the appointment of a master to inquire into Mr. Croker's mental state. It asks further that Mrs. Croker be enjoined from handling any part of her husband's funds or property or property in their joint names or funds and property in trust for them, and it is alleged, she obtained every cent she has by undue influence over her aged husband.

Richard Croker, Jr., swears in his affidavit that he told his father "true facts" about Miss Edmondson before the marriage, but the old Boss would hear nothing, calling his fiancee "an angel who has never told a lie in her life."

Croker, Jr., told of futile efforts to dissuade his father from the step he was about to take. There were conferences at the Croker home, No. 3 East Seventy-fourth street, at the Hotel Savoy and the National Democratic Club, all to no avail.

"I don't believe anything you tell me about Beula," was the old man's reply, according to the son, who added:

"I repeated that the statements I made about the defendant were not based on hearsay, but could easily be proved."

SALE OF A TORN NOTE.

Howard Croker, coming before the court as "next friend" of his father, told of the alleged conspiracy, of the change in Mr. Croker's attitude towards his children and referred to charges made by Mr. Croker against Croker, Jr. He continued:

"Deponent further states, as an indication of the manner in which the said defendant, Beula E. Croker, conducts financial matters, that on the twenty-fourth day of March, 1920, deponent saw the defendant at or near the postoffice on Oliver street, West Palm Beach, Fla., after having come out of the First National Bank. At that time she was alone, and deponent saw her tear up a piece of paper and throw the pieces in the street.

"Deponent caused these pieces of paper to be picked up and that it was part of a note made and signed by Richard Croker, payable to the order of the First National Bank of West Palm Beach, Fla., in the amount of $11,000, dated March 4, 1920; that said note was cancelled and had a stamp of the bank. Subsequently her husband met her.

"Deponent verily believes that the said defendant is destroying for some purpose or other important records of her financial transactions."

PROPERTY TRANSFER CHARGED.

Alleging that Mrs. Croker exercises "a dominating power upon his enfeebled mind," the affidavit cites that she has caused all of Croker's real estate to be transferred to herself and Croker jointly. The affidavit goes on:

"The deponent further avers that such transfers have been made without any monetary consideration whatsoever, and have been made for the purpose of completing and carrying out the fraudulent intent with which said defendant married said Richard Croker, well knowing that he has but a short time to live, and being desirous of having the record title to the property in her name at the time of his death."

On two other occasions, Howard says, his father was seriously ill, but Mrs. Croker failed to notify the children.

The allegations in the papers purport to show that Croker's young bride accomplished what the wiliest men and women were unable to do during the decade or more of his reign as Tammany boss—get him to share any of his rich possessions with them. Croker was notoriously shrewd in business matters, and many a "wise one" on Broadway said in the old days he was the hardest man in New York to "take."

"AS KEEN AS IS HIS YOUTH."

In their palatial "wigwam" in Palm Beach, Croker and his wife planned their legal fight. Mrs. Croker, at the first move, requested examination informally by a noted alienist in attendance at a municipal trial in Palm Beach. He also hired his attorneys, Leventritt, Cook, Nathan & Lehman. No. 111 Broadway. Mr. Nathan, of the firm, said yesterday:

"I will leave for Palm Beach in response to Mr. Croker's telegram. He is just as keen and alert mentally as he was in his youth. These charges are all rot. We are seeking to dictate to him in the disposal of his property.

"They are bring the silly charge of senility against him merely because they do not approve of what he is doing.

"There has been friction between Mr. Croker and some of his children for years. Scenes have been created and it has been very unpleasant, on one occasion, Richard Croker, Jr., called his father a liar. This was in the public dining room of the Hotel Savoy. Mr. Croker called the manager and Dick was put out of the hotel."

CROKER CALLS SONS 'UNFIT'

Never Right Mentally, Says Ex-Boss; Wife Plans Legal Battle

Palm Beach, April 2. — Richard Croker made it plain today that he expects to make a finish fight on the allegations that he is mentally incompetent and the demand that a commission be appointed to take a charge of his property and his person.

Mrs. Croker has wired her father and mother in Oklahoma to come to Palm Beach and testify as to allegations that she lied to her husband about her early history. She said today:

"This family trouble is thirty years old. Mr. Croker's sons began bringing it to public attention only after our marriage, because at that time he took a power of attorney away from his son, Howard, and began to manage his own affairs.

BLAMES RICHARD, JUNIOR.

"My husband did this when convinced that Howard was guilty, to state it mildly, of breaches of trust that could not be overlooked. We do not blame Howard so much as we do Richard Croker, Jr., who is planning everything that is being done and making Howard the 'scapegoat.'

"I am going to conduct the case myself. We will have lawyers, of course, but the personal attack is against me and I am going to see that I am cleared once for all of these insinuations that have been going on now for about three years.

"Why, they have got us tied up with this injunction so that I can't cash a check. Neither can Daddy's."

That reference was to her husband, who is seventy-nine years old. Mrs. Croker says she is twenty-nine. She added:

"I have got to go out now and borrow a little money from some friends."

"MY BOYS NEVER WERE RIGHT."

Mr. Croker laughed, and said he guessed anybody could see his wife was able to take care of herself, but that, as far as he was concerned, he refused to admit he was crazy. He spoke with dignity about his sons, thus:

"I am sorry about the whole matter, but I have to go into court with it. What can a man say when his boys want to have him put away? The fact is, my boys never were right. They never were mentally what they ought to have been. That is the best thing I can say about them. Suppose we let them off at that."

Mr. Croker has requested that he be examined by an alienist, who is in town testifying at a murder trial. This physician is Dr. Ralph N. Green, State health officer, formerly chief of the Florida State Hospital for the Insane.

John Q. Adams' Coach Ready for Wilson

Falmouth, April 2.—If Falmouth residents have their way President Wilson will enter this rock-ribbed Republican stronghold in triumph, riding in the same historic coach used by America's sixth President, John Quincy Adams, when he visited the town.

The coach was disinterred from the resting place back of "Bid" Lawrence's barn, where it has been accumulating cobwebs for a generation. It is to be "prettied up" for the State occasion.

The only question to be settled, is, who will occupy the seat of honor on the box. Some favor Arthur Underwood, who, as chairman of the board of selectmen would represent official grandeur. Others favor "Eddie" Donnelly, Falmouth's lone Democrat, who has voted the ticket season after season, "with no hope of reward in this world," as Henry Grady said, "and very little in the next."

WAS MAGNIFICENT AFFAIR.

The coach was constructed by a master wagon maker. It was quite a magnificent affair for Adams' day, and in it he was drawn from the edge of the town to the Falmouth Tavern.

There's one man in town to whom the coming of President Wilson and his retinue to the "Summer Palace" at Woods Hole means one thing only—more work.

He is Policeman L. T. Robbins, traffic director at the dangerous curve on Main street, approaching Falmouth Heights, and the only police officer in uniform south of Middleboro.

WILL ENFORCE LAW.

Policeman Robbins looks with a jaundiced eye upon the glory that is about to descend upon Woods Hole. He foresees more traffic, more cranks lurking in the neighborhood, more "wig-wagging" to be done, and more "nasty talk" from the President's "non-r" friends.

Officer Robbins is a conscientious official. He will not seek to wreak vengeance for the political offences he believes the President has committed. He may not agree with the distinguished guest on prohibition, woman suffrage or the League of Nations, but on the Main street curve as a traffic officer, there "is ex-force the law on friend and foe alike."

HUNDREDS MAY LOSE WORK

Pay Demand by Marblehead Shoe Operatives Likely to Cause Closing of Plants

Marblehead, April 2.—Shoe workers' demands for an increase in wages, approaching 100 per cent, will cripple and tieup the entire shoe-making industry in this town, according to a statement by the manufacturers here today. They decided that if any part of the demanded increase was granted it would be out of question for them to continue making shoes.

To begin with, the Parker Shoe Company closed its doors on 250 operatives today. Herbert Humphrey & Sons Co. will follow suit tomorrow night, it is said. This company employs 150 operatives. The Paine Shoe Company, with 250, closed two months ago when the workers quit. Reports state the operatives average $50 a week.

RAISE FOR ONE STIRS OTHERS

Plymouth Voters Want to Know Why Four Selectmen Were Left Off List

Plymouth, April 2.—Dissatisfaction has arisen over the result of the town election last Saturday, in which William T. Eldridge, chairman of the selectmen, was granted an increase in salary from $600 to $900, while the other four members were ignored. The action of the voters at the polls is causing a great deal of comment among the friends of the disappointed selectmen.

Another point of dissatisfaction is the fact that the chairman of the School Board, Edward Bradford, a world war veteran, receives no salary, although he devotes considerable time to the position. He was not provided for in the list made up by the Advisory Board of fifteen.

Today it was announced that in the disputed tie between Herbert S. Maxwell and William H. Leach for the Board of Health position, Maxwell had been elected. The position is for three years.

FRYING DOUGHNUTS CAUSED FIRE SCARE

COX PLANNED BIG COUP

Arrest of "Millionaire" Operator Just as He Had Organized Trust

Richard C. Cox, so-called millionaire real estate operator of Cambridge, had practically completed the biggest deal of his career when he was arrested for the larceny of $195.45, it was learned today.

Cox had organized a real estate trust, which was underwritten by a Pittsburgh firm, and was getting out his stock certificates when taken into custody.

The real estate operator, who was said to have borrowed more than $300,000 recently from three Boston banks, together with large sums from "money brokers," was charged with having passed a worthless check in payment of a bill of repairs on his automobile to the Henley-Kimball Company, No. 562 Beacon street.

ARREST SPOILED PLANS.

Cox's backers declared today that if he had not been interfered with he would have pulled himself out of his alleged difficulties and disposed of his Cambridge apartment house property, valued at more than $2,000,000 at a profit.

The fact that Cox was arrested for a small sum, when he has been able to borrow thousands from numerous banks and individuals, was pointed out as being significant. One man who was said to be "on" Cox's paper for $50,000 said today that he would gladly have advanced him more money had he known that Cox needed it. He declared he could not understand the man's arrest for so small a sum, particularly as the big real estate trust was practically completed.

With the organization of this trust, and the money used in underwriting it, Cox could have paid all his debts, it was stated, and continued to do business.

Attention was also called to the fact that the real estate operator was not arrested under the new bad check law, which does not permit prosecution until after the expiration of ten days from the date the check was passed. The arrest was made under the old penal code, charging larceny, which is used only in most flagrant cases. The check in question was date March 20.

The arrest adds another chapter to the career of the man who stated that he would not be satisfied until his returns from investments in Cambridge apartment house property were $1,000 daily.

RELEASED ON $500 BAIL.

The arrest was made by Inspectors Haggerty and Dorsey of headquarters, and Cox, after being identified, was released in $500 bail furnished by a professional bondsman.

In municipal court today Cox declared through his attorney that "it was all a mistake." He paid the $195.45. The case was continued to Monday.

Cox declared that he had purposely withdrawn the money for payment of the check because he thought the bill of the automobile concern too high, and understood that they were willing to reduce it. He said that he would get the final notification that the check had been dishonored until last night.

According to bankers and real estate men, Cox, who is treasurer of the Sterling Products Company, manufacturers of dental supplies, got into financial difficulties about three weeks ago, at that time he was said to have been "in" to a certain large trust company for $200,000, another for $50,000 and a third for about $30,000.

Although President Max Mitchell of the Cosmopolitan Trust Company claimed that Cox did not owe them any money, attachments for $40,000 each were recorded as having been placed on the furniture in the property by the legal representatives of the trust company. One of these writs was placed in Middlesex County and one in Suffolk County.

BANKS SOUGHT MONEY.

At the same time it was asserted that Cox was having trouble in making payments on his Cambridge apartment house property, involving approximately $2,000,000.

Cox was a big man on the part of the banks to "get out from under," but inquiries were met with the reply "Nothing to say." The next day the word was passed around that Cox would meet all his obligations.

Real estate men and others who were aware of the circumstances, were outspoken at times in their comments on modern banking methods, and the ease with which loans could be obtained without sufficient security.

It was stated that a man known to a bank could obtain $20,000 for instance, for which he would be issued a certificate of deposit, calling for interest at thirty days. On the strength of this deposit the bank would then loan him $100,000 at an interest rate in ratio of interest.

The certificate of deposit, however, is negotiable, and it would be possible for the depositor to hypothecate it if he so desired. It would also be possible for him to go into bankruptcy, so that the bank in reality gambled that the depositor was not only in good solvent and would meet his obligations in thirty days. Except for the element of chance involved such a loan is highly desirable because of the high rate of interest.

French Spinsters and Bachelors Taxed

Paris, April 2.—The French government has put a premium upon marriage by imposing a 10 per cent. tax upon bachelors and spinsters.

Spirited discussions were aroused by the provision of the measure taxing women as well as men. Members of the Chamber of Deputies opposed this clause on the ground that the bachelors were really responsible for the unmarried condition of the women.

THREE STABBED IN STREET ROW

Connecticut Fight Originated in Throwing of Popcorn in Movie House

Barone was carried to Springfield Hospital in a serious condition.

Honeymoon Message By Mary Pickford

Los Angeles, Cal., April 2.—A honeymoon message to all the world was issued today by Mary Pickford Fairbanks from the country estate of her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, in Beverly Hills:

By MARY PICKFORD.
Written especially for the International News Service.

I am going to continue my screen work just the same, only I shall now work with even greater effort to serve those who have heretofore given me the desire to please them.

I am not going to retire. My honeymoon in Europe will be a long-desired rest which I believe I have justly earned, and really the first vacation I have ever had.

On my return I hope to be able to do better work and with even greater effort to endeavor to retain the same place in the hearts of my many friends, both children and grown-ups, to whom I owe everything and love.

BONDS GIVEN IN 'LEAK' CASES

Indicted Men Prepare for Big Legal Battle on New Penal Code

By International News Service.

Washington, April 2. — The four men indicted yesterday in connection with alleged "leak" in the United States Supreme Court decision appeared today through their attorneys in the District Court and gave bonds for their appearance in the sum of $2,000 each.

J. Harwood Graves, formerly of the Department of Justice, and Ashton F. Embry, until December secretary to Associate Justice McKenna of the United States Supreme Court, were the first to provide bail.

Following them were B. E. Mosely, Washington attorney involved in the Washington, and Millard Mayer of New York, Washington and Cincinnati. None of the men had anything to say today save Mayer, who declared that when the case is tried he would be proved guiltless.

A terrific legal battle is expected to grow out of the indictments. The defendants announced an immediate big array of legal talent to appear for them at the trial. Theirs will be the first cases of the kind tried under the United States penal code as amended following the famous "cotton leak." At that time an employe of the Department of Agriculture was indicted on a charge of giving out advance information on the cotton crop to speculators but after a fight lasting several years the cases fell through because the code did not foresee and provide for such an offence.

LAWSON OWES 'DAD' $200,000

Arnold So Testifies at Hearing for the Custody of Twins

Arnold Lawson today stated that he is indebted to his father, Thomas W. Lawson, the amount of $200,000 to pay for the custody of the Lawson twins, Arnold, seven years old, and Thomas W., the second, seven years old, be.ore Master Frank L. Morton.

The question of young Lawson's finances arose with the arguments for alimony for Mrs. Lawson. He took the stand after Mrs. John Curtin, wife of a State Senator, and close friend of Mrs. Lawson.

Mrs. Curtin was the first witness today at the private hearing in the Suffolk County Courthouse. Mrs. Curtin, who is an intimate friend of Mrs. Arnold Lawson, was understood to have testified in her behalf in the proceedings which are preliminary to the trial of a cross divorce suit in which Lawson and his wife are parties, while Mrs. Lawson charged desertion. Yesterday Mrs. Lawson obtained an injunction preventing the removal of the twins from the jurisdiction of the court.

NEW TEST FOR WATCHES WHICH FAIL IN CLASS A

Washington, April 2.—The bureau of standards today initiated a new test to serve as an additional standard for issuing certificates for watches. The purpose is to establish a test which would grant a certificate to a watch of the better grades now on the market, but which would fail in the class A test. The test lasts nineteen days, during which a watch is tried in five positions and three temperatures.

What are the chances for lower living costs? This timely and intensely interesting question is discussed most carefully by a State official in next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser. He says, however, that cases down, but the problem remains.

LAWRENCE WILL VOICE RENT PROTEST THIS EVENING

HAYS AND HEATH TO SPEAK.

Representative Martin Hays of Ward 25, Brighton, will outline the features of his rent bill and also explain his reasons for urging the extraordinary conference between the chiefs of the executive, judicial and legislative departments of the State government on the housing problem.

President Victor A. Heath of the Boston American Tenants' League, well known throughout the Commonwealth for his patriotic service during the war as chairman of the Boston Public Safety Committee, and members of Mayor White's rent committee will also speak.

Enrollments in the Boston American Tenants' League will be received, and it is expected that the membership of this rapidly growing organization will be boosted several thousand through these Lawrence enrollments.

MORE MEETINGS UNDER WAY.

Lawrence is the first large city of the Commonwealth to have such a meeting, a striking evidence of the progressiveness of Mayor White, by whose invitation the meeting will be held.

Plans for mass meetings in Haverhill, Malden, Lynn and other places are going forward. Special efforts are being made to secure suitable places in Dorchester, Roxbury and Brighton to hold mass meetings in response to many urgent requests from residents of these sections, and it is expected that definite plans for such meetings will be ready for announcement within a few days.

Max Henry Newman, president of the Jefferson Club of the South End, which heartily indorsed the Hays bill, and the aims of the League, has named members of the club to a campaign committee to work for enrollments in the League from the South End.

ENDORSEMENTS POUR IN.

At the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Soldiers' Home in Massachusetts, held at No. 157 Huntington avenue, the members, after hearing the aims of the league and of the Hays bill explained by the secretary of the league, unanimously indorsed both the bill and the league and enrolled in a body.

Women's organizations throughout the State are showing a great deal of interest in the league and its aims.

"There is need for a moderate amount of increase in rents, but I fail to see how 100 per cent raises are justified," Mrs. George R. Darling, president of the Pilgrim Woman's Club, told the American. "The Hays Rent Bill looks to me like a bill that should be indorsed. At any rate it is a bill that every citizen man should become acquainted with. I will place the matter of its indorsement before my board. If we decide to take it up in the club, I will put it before the members at our next meeting, the third Monday in April."

LAND OWNER FAVORS BILL.

Mrs. Henry George Gompertz, president of the Mothers and Homemakers' Club of Dorchester, tells the American she will be glad to ask her club members to indorse the Hays rent bill.

"Conditions as to rent are simply shocking," said Mrs. Gompertz, "and I speak as a landlady myself. I have not raised the rent of my apartments one cent and have taken the loss out of my own pocket. I have not had the heart to do it when the people are already oppressed by the extravagant prices we are paying for everything. It was only lately that my son was telling me about a young girl whose rent, from $20, had mounted steadily till it reached $35. That is outrageous. I heartily approve of your campaign, and will be pleased to put the bill before the club."

Tufts Lauds Probe on Rent Profiteering

Nathan A. Tufts, district attorney of Middlesex County, in commenting on rent profiteering, said:

"I am glad to note that public interest is being stimulated in the matter of the rent profiteering question. As district attorney for Middlesex County I have had innumerable complaints during the last year from tenants who have suffered from what appears to be unreasonable increases in rentals. I have been powerless to assist them.

"There is hardly a community in Middlesex County which has not furnished many complaints. I have had no opportunity to examine the bill filed by Representative Hays, but the fact that the interest of citizens is being centred upon one of the most important questions of the day cannot fail to result in benefit."

DEER SAVED FROM ICE HAS HOME IN THE ZOO

Springfield, April 2.—From a floating cake of ice to a warm bed in the municipal zoo was the change which one day brought to a deer now at Forest Park. The animal was marooned on a piece of ice in the Connecticut River. When the ice reached the dam at Holyoke it drifted near the shore and the deer leaped to the bank. It ran through the streets and jumped into a canal, where it was rescued.

CUT IN COST OF SHOES IS DUE

Government Agents Report That Conditions Show Reduction Is Coming

By International News Service.

Washington, April 2.—Top-notch prices for shoes are due to hit the toboggan. Government experts in a survey completed today declared market conditions do not warrant present quotations. They predict a gradual recession that will be pronounced in the next few months.

Slackening demand has affected hides, leather and shoes, the expert survey revealed. Large accumulation of stocks of hides are reported. In some districts reports show that a check upon the finished product may have been influenced by a desire to prevent sharp reduction in retail prices.

Shoe retailers are holding back in orders for Fall trade, expecting a reduction in prices. Many manufacturers as a result have an over-supply of manufactured goods. Tendency among consumers to refuse to buy higher-priced shoes is observed by the experts. New business offered tanneries in some districts has been small in volume.

Labor shortage is given by many factories as the reason for operating only part time.

100 GALLONS OF WINE SEIZED IN REVERE RAID

A raid that yielded 100 gallons of Italian "home made" wine was made today by the Revere police at the home of Albino Davierazzo, No. 339 Revere street, Revere. The raiding squad was armed with a search warrant, and was in charge of Sergeant O'Hara. It is alleged by the police that Davierazzo purchased the wine subsequent to the passage of the Federal prohibition enactment, and officials say he will be arrested on charges of keeping and exposing liquor for sale.

Senator Sherman of Illinois Declares His Wavering Candidacy Is Premature

By LAWRENCE Y. SHERMAN, Senator from Illinois.

Washington, April 2.—I am a party man. I believe political parties are an indispensable instrumentality of popular government.

This is without regard as to whether the party with which I am affiliated is a majority or a minority.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

I regard party affiliation in some form as a virtue, not as a weakness. Many change their party upon what appears to them to be sufficient grounds. I believe, however, in party belief and loyalty within all reason limits.

Mr. Hoover is sufficiently mature to know the political differences between parties. He ought not to have hesitated so long in deciding from which party he was willing to assume the burden of the Presidency.

A voter may cross the line but he ought to cross long enough to be naturalized in the party in which he seeks a nomination.

I fail to appreciate Mr. Hoover's claims on the Republican party. He might file a declaration of intention and take out what is called "first papers" in nationalism. He could thereby qualify for nomination four years from now if things went well. Meanwhile his candidacy is premature.

Spain's Bull Fighters Go On Strike

By Universal Service.

Special Cable Dispatch.

Madrid, April 2.—Spain's bull fighters are on strike. They declare they will not appear in the ring unless they are granted the increase in pay demanded by the newly-formed bull fighters' union. The promoters are expected to yield rather than wreck the greatest bull fights since the pre-war days, scheduled for the coming months.

Matadors at present get from $1,200 to $1,600 for each fight, while picadores get $1,500 per fight, so long as it expresses my views. When it does not, I shall seek another one. This is the only method of submitting public questions to the voters of our country.

JOHNSON RAPS LIVING COST

Tells New York Audiences It Will Be Presidential Campaign Issue

By Universal Service

New York, April 2—The League of Nations, the high cost of living, big campaign funds, Herbert Hoover and Woodrow Wilson were the subject of an attack by United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson at rallies in Manhattan and Brooklyn. It was his farewell primary tour here.

Senator Johnson received a continuously enthusiastic ovation. He began in Carnegie Hall and ended in Independence Hall Brownsville. Today he is speeding toward Michigan, cancelling the balance of his tour here in response to appeals to speak in Detroit, Kalamazoo and other cities.

The candidate from the Golden Gate was accorded a tumultous reception at the Academy of Music in Brooklyn. He was introduced by former State Senator Robert D. Pawson, Johnson candidate for delegate to the national convention from the Ninth Congressional District.

Senator Johnson, in the course of his address, emphasized what he believes will be the two leading issues of the presidential campaign—the League of Nations and the cost of living.

Senator Johnson, in his Carnegie Hall speech, criticised the New York State primary law, declaring it to be a disgrace to the Empire State and suggesting that it be amended so that they will have an opportunity not only to express their choice as individuals, but also to pass on laws.

Haverhill, April 2.—Three young men, opposed to the Volstead Act, Daniel H. Regan, John Sheerin and Jeremiah Leary, entered a warehouse in the Boston & Maine freight yard and appropriated $30 worth of hair tonic and flavored soda water, the property of Arthur Gammon, a local druggist.

Judge John J. Winn, in the district court, continued their cases until Saturday in $500 bonds each and ordered them to make restitution of $9.35 apiece and pay fines of $15.

CITY'S WORKERS IDLE 3 HOURS

Stock Exchange Suspends for Good Friday and Special Services Mark the Day

With special religious services in Catholic and Episcopal churches, the stock exchange closed and business at City Hall suspended for three hours during the day, Boston observed Good Friday today.

It was a day of hot cross buns, fasting and complete abstinence from amusement for those who follow the custom of the last penitential day of Lent.

The season of prayer and fasting closes Saturday noon.

Mass of the pre-sanctified was celebrated today in every Catholic church in the archdiocese. Special services also were held in all the Episcopal churches, with Dean Rousmaniere conducting a three-hours' devotion in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul.

In the Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception, Harrison avenue and East Concord street, and St. Mary's Church, Endicott street, the devotion of three hours began at 12 noon and continued without interruption until 3 P. M. Rev. Joseph S. Hogan, S. J., presided at the Immaculate Conception Church and at St. Mary's, the sermon was by the Rev. Father Swickerath, S. J.

Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Copley square, conducted the three-hour service held there today. At the Church of the Advent, Brimmer street, the Rev. W. H. Van Allen was the preacher.

Cardinal O'Connell will preside at tenebræ services to be held tonight in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross. The Rev. T. J. McDonough will preach the sermon.

HUNT FOR 15 MORE BOY ROBBERS IN LYNN

Two twelve-year-old boys, who, the police say, are members of a gang who have been robbing many Lynn homes, were arrested by Patrolman Charles Burrill as they entered their "den" in a piano box in a yard off Central avenue. Before the boys are arraigned in the juvenile court Wednesday, the police say they will have at least fifteen more, ranging in ages from seven to fifteen.

GLOVER LAUNDRY 'FOR THE POOR'

Widow of Murder Victim Also Will Share Profits With Employes

Lillian M. Delemarre, who through a decree by the full bench of the Supreme Court is granted the Waltham Laundry, in which her former husband, Clarence W. Glover, was murdered in November, 1908, is going to run the business for the poor of Waltham and on a profit-sharing basis for her employes.

This she announced today, adding that her present husband, Ferdinand Delemarre, has all the money he needs.

Ever since Glover's murder Mrs. Glover has fought for the laundry, which she has maintained she bought in 1898 and turned over to Glover in 1900, although he held 198 shares in his name of the 200 shares of stock which was issued.

The decree further orders Attorney Samuel D. Elmore, who was executor under Glover's will, to turn over the property to Mrs. Delemarre, and account for all funds and dividends and to pay all costs of litigation. It allows him no charge for his management.

"I want to keep all employes and give them a share in the profits," said Mrs. Delemarre.

"She has got to the top at last," said Delemarre. "My wife has been a much-abused woman. This Summer I am going to take her to France. I intend to give her a vacation."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that fuzzy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 75c.

PLAN TO DEFEAT PEACE RESOLVE

Democrats Boast They Can Prevent Passage Over Wilson's Veto

Washington, April 2.—The plan of the Republican leaders in Congress to establish peace with Germany by a joint resolution received what may prove a fatal blow when the Democratic leaders in the House determined to make a partisan fight against it.

The Democrats have no hope of defeating the measure on its first consideration, but they boastfully assert that they will have more than a sufficient number of votes to obviate any possibility of re-passing it over the President's veto.

The extent to which the Democratic opposition had developed was first indicated in the Foreign Affairs Committee vote ordering the resolution favorably reported. With the exception of one Democrat, Representative Huddleston of Alabama, who voted present, the lineup was strictly partisan. Twelve Republicans voted for a favorable report and six Democrats against it. Two members of the committee, one Republican and one Democrat, were absent.

Consideration of the resolution in the House, which was scheduled for Monday under an agreement effected by the Republican and Democratic leaders, will be postponed until next Thursday. The fight on the floor will begin at 11 o'clock Thursday morning under a special rule limiting debate to three and a half hours on each side, and so designed as to prevent the offering of amendments. It is the plan of the majority to hold the House in session Thursday night until the resolution is passed, but unexpected delays may force the vote over until Friday.

SEIZE FOUR STILLS IN NEW BEDFORD RAID

New Bedford, April 2.—United States revenue officers, led by Richard A. Kelley and reinforced by constables of the town, seized four big stills having a combined capacity of 240 gallons, in a raid upon a supposedly abandoned farm at Acushnet. All the apparatus was in operation when the raiding party forced an entrance to the house, and Antone Rodertigues and Antone Souza, who were present, were arrested.

They will be given a hearing next Tuesday.

LABOR JARS MAKE 1,700 IDLE AT WOONSOCKET

Woonsocket, R. I., April 2.—The Social Mill of the Manville Company, employing 1,200 hands, the Blackstone Manufacturing Company plant, which gives employment to 500 operatives, and the Andrews Mill at Fitch Village, where 100 persons work, are closed down because of labor trouble.

SCIENTISTS ASK STATE TO ACT

Attorney-General Has Two Methods of Procedure to Take in Controversy

As the result of numerous requests from prominent Christian Scientists and others to intervene in the dispute which is arousing the passionate interest of Mrs. Eddy's disciples all over the world, Attorney-General J. Weston Allen will probably take action.

An announcement of the exact form of action to be taken will likely be made next week.

Two methods of procedure are being considered by the Attorney-General at present. One is to intervene in the suit of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society against the directors of the Mother Church as the authorized representative of the beneficiaries under the two deeds of trust. It is claimed these deeds created public charitable trusts.

The second method is the bringing of a wholly separate and distinct suit by means of an information in equity for an investigation of the finances of the trustees of the publishing house and the directors, and of the manner in which both bodies are performing their duties under the trust deeds creating them.

The Attorney General is acting under a long recognized principle of law that beneficiaries under a public charitable trust cannot act individually if they believe that the trustees are mismanaging the property or misapplying its funds, but must apply to the Attorney General, who represents them all.

Union Contract Is Signed by Monitor

The Christian Science Monitor will hereafter be a closed shop as far as union labor is concerned, the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, which publishes the Monitor and a number of other papers, at a conference with representatives of Boston Typographical Union and Web Pressmen's Union yesterday afternoon, having agreed to sign a contract with these organizations for one year.

The leaders of the union agreed to furnish men to fill the places made vacant by the walkout of twenty-four compositors Wednesday night. Of the men who walked out, nineteen were non-union printers, members of the Christian Science Church.

This will be the first contract to be signed by the management of this publishing society, and will be similar to the contracts now existing with the managements of the daily newspapers of this city.

GIRL WRITES OF ENGLISH RAID

Plays "Wearing of the Green" as Soldiers Ransack Dublin House

How a young Irishwoman played "God Save Ireland" and "The Wearing of the Green," while English soldiers raided her home in Dublin at 4 o'clock in the morning in one of the incidents of a military raid related in a letter from Miss Kate Fearon of the North Circular road, Dublin, to her brother, Leo Fearon of the Gaelic Industries Bureau, Madison avenue and Fifty-ninth street, New York city.

The raid which Miss Fearon describes is only one of hundreds of the kind happening every day throughout Ireland. Miss Fearon wrote in part:

"Half the houses in Dublin were raided on Friday night and we at An Grianan came in for a large share of Mother England's attention. We were all in bed, when a large force of military came across the back garden wall and demanded the back door be opened, and before we could get downstairs they had the door smashed in with hatchets.

"They came in all over the place, searched every cupboard, drawer, wardrobe, and even turned out all our beds, found a little revolver in my bed (as a precaution against robbers I had it) and then marched off Patrick and Michael as being the only male specimens in the house. They had no warrant, they did not say what they came for, but at the farce of a trial where there was no one's story heard but their own officer said they came to search for a "wanted man." As they evidently didn't get him they took what was at hand.

"Such is the beautiful English law we have the blessing of living under. My God! how long more are we to be so persecuted?

"That same night hundreds of other homes were similarly raided, and since every night the same thing happens.

"The three hours that our home was under the raiders we were all shunted from room to room; no one was allowed to accompany the searchers, so they might take what they liked and swear they got nothing.

"We were weary and cold with nothing on our feet and only a big coat over our night dresses, shoved from one room to another, when it suddenly dawned on me I would try a tune on the piano. I said to some soldiers who were standing in the hall: 'I think I will rattle off a tune or two; it will help to pass the time.' So they grinned and I rattled off 'God Save Ireland' and 'The Wearing of the Green,' etc. Paddy sang while I played. The soldiers were upstairs at the time, and I must say, in justice, that the soldiers, who were all English, seemed sick of the job.

"During the night I asked one of them: 'Were you in France?' And he said, 'Yes, mam.'

"'Well,' said I, 'what do you think of this night's work?'

"'Well,' he says, 'We are about fed up with jobs like this, but,' he says, 'I am going home to England next week and I am jolly glad of it.'"

Easter Egg Rolling Ban Continues

Washington, April 2.—There will be no Easter egg rolling at the White House on Easter Monday, it was announced today.

The White House grounds have been closed to the kiddies for egg rolling now for five years because the large numbers of children attending made it impractical.

President Wilson is considering opening the North grounds of the White House each day for visitors. The grounds have been entirely closed to visitors since the war.

SPLIT IN TEXTILE LABOR FACTIONS AT WEYMOUTH

Plymouth, April 2.—What appears to be a split in the three labor factions of the textile industries here seems to be looming up by the announcement made today that a meeting of the United Textile Workers, composed of the John Golden following, will be held in Hibernian Hall on Tuesday night, at which prominent out-of-town speakers will address the workers, urging them to stop professional agitation of strike breeders from other organizations.

$460,000 VALUE OF ONE WOMAN

Limb Is Worth $40,000 and Broken Heart a Quarter of a Million

New York, April 2.—The high cost of woman (one), is now as high at $460,000.

This figure, which is adjusted to the H. C. L. and everything, was set up as a result of a legal decision placing the valuation of $40,000 on one feminine leg.

The verdict, was won in the Supreme Court by Miss Florence D Rooney, who suffered a permanent fracture of one limber member from an automobile accident.

The verdict is a record breaker. Taken in conjunction with other verdicts the total valuation of woman is fixed. Here are some precious awards:

Hair, $20,0466; nose, $15,000; eyes, $20,000; broken heart, $250,000; arms, $45,000; legs, $30,000.

Henry Koster, retired merchant, who was "bounced" off a trolley at Yonkers, won $200 damages. He sued for one nickle for breach of contract and $1,999.95 for "indignity and humiliation."

8 DIVORCE SUITS FILED IN NORFOLK COUNTY COURT

CATHOLICS QUIT CIVIC HOUSE

Priests at Rutland, Vt., Declare Community Club Is Part of Protestant Church

Rutland, Vt., April 2.—Members of the Roman Catholic churches in this city have been forbidden by their priests to enter the Rutland Community House. The order, which follows instructions from Bishop J. J. Rice of Burlington, has caused considerable surprise, as heretofore the Community House has been used as an assembly hall by all citizens.

Fully 50 per cent. of those using the house are Catholics, and the Community Club of Women, which has its headquarters there, includes more than 150 Catholic communicants.

The anti-laity order was made after the authorities of the club had invited a committee of women representing St. Peter's parish to prepare the weekly supper for the organization.

The Community House is under the jurisdiction of the local Congregational church, through the will of Governor John A. Mead, who presented the clubhouse to the town. He directed that church to have charge of its supervision.

Rev. Bernard Kelley, pastor of the Holy Innocents Church, stated that the fundamental reason for the order is that "conscientious Catholics believe that the Catholic church is the true church and therefore they cannot take part in the exercises of a club which is in any part of another church."

CHILE PACIFIED BY COLBY

Secretary of State Denies U. S. Seeks to Intervene in South America

By International News Service.

Washington, April 2.—The Chilean government has expressed satisfaction with the explanation of the United States attitude with regard to interference in South American affairs, it was learned at the State Department today.

Informed the Chilean Ambassador here that when the United States sent its Secretary of State Colby has in recent note to Chile asking that government to use its good offices in preventing trouble between Peru and Bolivia, it had no intention of exercising any pressure or attempting to intervene. This statement has been forwarded to the Chilean government and it is understood it is entirely satisfactory.

The Chilean government had informally expressed its displeasure with the note of the United States and the Chilean press had interpreted it as an attempt on the part of the United States to interfere with South American affairs.

Mrs. Spooner was found guilty, and was put on probation pending the arrival of her husband to settle the bill.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try this! Brush Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound through your hair, taking one strand at a time.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is muggy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

Why Spring Brings Out Freckles and Eruptions

The sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines at this season is attributed by scientists to the "actinic ray," which is unusually active during the Spring months. Where the skin is so affected by the influence, no one will procure an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, like cold cream, and you can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off (next morning) your skin is quite beautiful, none with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or two with all its defects.

No bleach could so effectually remove freckles or blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No harm or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.—Advertisement.

The Family Who Begged—for Dessert

"I'd just like to make some ice cream for dinner tonight," said Mrs. Graham as she and Mrs. Norton sat sewing on the porch one afternoon. "But my ice cream always turns out thin and watery."

"Did you ever try making ice cream with Puddine?" asked Mrs. Norton.

"I think I have tried making it with everything under the sun!" exclaimed Mrs. Graham.

"Puddine makes ice cream smooth and velvety," said Mrs. Norton. "You'll be delighted with it."

"What is it?" said her friend.

"It's a prepared dessert," she answered, "and more. You see, I never had much success with making corn starch pudding, and one day somebody told me about Puddine. Now we almost live on it."

"Is it hard to make?" inquired Mrs. Graham.

"Oh, no; all you do is to add sugar and milk, either fresh or condensed, and boil three minutes. It always turns out right. I pour mine into a mold, and then when it cools, have a firm, smooth dessert, rich and creamy. And it's so pure and wholesome, I let the children have as much of it as they want."

"What flavor is it?" said her friend.

"Oh, you can get any flavor you like—your favorite—chocolate, vanilla, orange or lemon—and it's so economical. Why, one 15c package will serve 15 people."

"But you said something about making ice cream with it," said Mrs. Graham.

"Yes, indeed," answered Mrs. Norton emphatically. "There is the simplest and finest recipe in the Puddine package. And as for pie and cake fillings—well, you'll be delighted with their richness and creaminess."

A few days later the friends met. "My dear," exclaimed Mrs. Graham, "I bought some Puddine and made the most delicious ice cream you ever tasted, and now my family fairly bore for a Puddine dessert for every meal."

'PRESIDENT IS PERSECUTED'

Cummings Regards Attacks as an Attempt at Character Assassination

By Universal Service.

Washington, April 2.—President Wilson has been harassed to the point of persecution by political adversaries, Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, declares in an interview here. He said:

"I regard it as an attempt at character assassination."

Mr Cummings was talking about the prospects of the campaign and reviewing events in the struggle against the peace treaty. He said that opposition to the peace resolution drawn in the House should be unanimous, and he termed the move to declare peace by resolution as "the most disgraceful attempt to surrender the honor of America."

The peace treaty, he pointed out, would be the important issue in the campaign and he added that he had not the "slightest doubt in the world but that the convention at San Francisco would endorse the attitude of the President on the peace treaty."

Among the subjects which Mr. Cummings would not discuss, and which he termed taboo, were the matter of a third term, so far as the President is concerned and mention of any other Democratic candidates. It was a question concerning the President's ability to take part in the campaign, that drew from Mr Cummings his denunciation of the Republicans. He said:

"If matters of crucial importance arise, I will not have any difficulty in finding out the attitude of the President. There is, of course, a limitation on free discussion with him because of his health. Those who respect the President and have affection for him are greatly distressed by his state of health; it is a very unfortunate thing for the country. There is no doubt, though, but that he is improving; but he has been subjected to a great strain for a long period of time. He has been subjected to harassment by political adversaries to the point of persecution. I regard it as an attempt at character assassination."

New Tests Show Man Had Monkey Origin

London, April 2.—The whole of mankind did not descend from a chimpansee, but the human race may have descended from two different species of the monkey family.

This much is implied by a sensational pathological report made to the Lancet, England's leading medical journal, by two investigators who have tested the blood of different races of mankind. English scientists regard the report as a bombshell for biologists.

During the war, the two pathologists, who in accordance with British custom remain anonymous, went to Macedonia, the supposed cradle of the human race, and made 8,000 blood tests, the subjects being English, French, Italians, Germans, Austrians, Serbs, Greeks, Bulgars, Arabs, Turks, Russians, Jews, Malagasies, negroes from Senegal, Annamese and Indians, soldiers of all these races and nationalities being gathered in that area of the war.

The tests, made under conditions which preclude the possibility of error, showed differences between the blood of the different races of such a character as to make it practically certain that mankind had two different sources of origin.

He lived with his father, Stephen Connolly, at No. 264 Second street, South Boston.

Forsyth of Jamaica Plain, charged with the larceny of $40 from Jacob Sweat of 21 Eliot street. MARY GARDEN'S THEORY SCORED

Lydia Lipkowska Says Make Hubby Work to Be Happy, Though Married

"Make your husband work and you will be happy though married."

That is Lydia Lipkowska, beautiful Russian singer's recipe for a married opera singer. It was brought forth in contradiction to Mary Garden's declaration that an opera singer had no business getting married.

Lydia Lipkowska is a bride of six weeks only, but she has had some experience with previous husbands. Monsieur Pierre Bertier was cast off a torpedo boat, being number three. The story of Lipkowska's thrilling rescue from the Bolsheviki in Odessa by the dashing Captain Bodin of the R F destroyer No. 5 was told when Lipkowska landed in New York a few weeks ago accompanied by her latest, who had given up the French navy to be Lydia's husband.

"If a prima donna marry a pet of her husband," declared Lydia, "and carries him around with her like a poodle paying all bills and letting him do nothing except look after trunks and dress suits the opera singers the end a peculiar life between many women with husbands. They tried to fix with me, the beasts.

"Now my husband is a very handsome man. I would not trust him to be idle with nothing to do except look at the ladies. When we reached New York I said Pierre you must go to work."

"All right," said Pierre, "I will find another job."

He did find one and he wasn't gone an hour when he returned. I got a job. I am a film actor.

Sure enough he had a job as a film actor. In the films he has to make love to ladies and that is nothing for two lovers who are in love, and he made love like a lover and not a dead man, so baby

Manoeuvre Warship by Wireless Control

By Universal Service.

London, April 2—The British admiralty, as the result of considerable [illegible] tests of ship wireless control [illegible] vessels and torpedo-boats. Warships with crews of only a few men are regarded as the early practical possibility as a result of the experiments. The Daily Mail says:

"By using Hertzian waves the wireless wizards of our fleet have succeeded in controlling torpedo craft from a distance of many miles. In the experiments a destroyer was manoeuvred by wireless and [illegible] a ring drawn at a [illegible] vessel as easily steered by the invisible force. Shins' searchlights also are burned by wireless.

The United States Navy is about to conduct experiments along the same lines as mentioned from London. The battleship Ohio is preparing to sail to sea to test out wireless control of warships and remarkable results. Washington advices have indicated are expected.

Legion Historian Appointed

Eben S. Putnam of Wellesley, State historian of the Massachusetts branch of the American Legion, has been selected to represent the national legion board at a conference of historical societies at Washington April 6 and 7.

DELEGATES' ELECTIONS COMPLICATED BY ALLEN

The political situation in the State, so far as the election of delegates to the national conventions is concerned, is further complicated by an opinion of Attorney-General J. Weston Allen, that group candidates for delegates may not be voted for in the presidential primaries by a single mark within a circle opposite the groups.

The Attorney-General decides that it is within the law for candidates-at-large or by districts to be grouped on the ballot, but he says that each candidate must be voted for with a separate cross.

Heads Tech Association

Glenn E. Parco of Littleton, N. H., was elected president of the Tech Christian Association. R. L. Turner of Toronto was chosen vice-president and A. W. Norton of Muncie, Ind., treasurer.

THE success of N. Sallinger's wonderful idea, that of selling Standard Brands of Men's Clothing on credit, has never been duplicated; at least, it is not so recorded in the history of the Men's Clothing business. That wonderful idea has been so successful that each year Mr. Sallinger has been obliged to enlarge his department and increase his selling force. This year has been no exception; in fact, he has been compelled to take more extra space than ever to accommodate his rapidly increasing patronage.

Consider the accommodation it is to a man to be able to buy on credit the highest grade of Men's Clothing—such standard brands as are sold by the best cash houses in the big cities. Our men customers do not have to so financially inconvenience themselves. Mr. Sallinger has given them a national selection of the leading Standard Brands from which to select, and has agreed with the makers to sell on credit at strictly cash prices—not a cent more.

For Better Clothes and A Bigger Money's Worth

This is the tenth Easter that has found us doing business, in this city, and each succeeding one has seen more customers buying more of our good merchandise than before. That wouldn't be the case if our performance lagged behind our promise. We lead you to expect more from us than from any other store —then give you more than you expected.

We tell you of our tremendous stock and then surprise you with its vastness. We tell you of our wider varieties and then show you more styles than you thought existed. We talk about our greater value-giving, then give you more for your money than you thought possible.

Then you tell your friends and they tell their friends and so our business grows—like a snowball—growing faster the bigger it gets. If you're leaving any of your Easter shopping for Saturday, we hope you'll find it convenient to come in before one or after six.

Kuppenheimer Spring Suits are $40 and up

"YOUNG PATRIOTS" BUY BONDS AND PLEDGE AID TO IRISH DRIVE

"Mopping Up" to Double Quota in Medford District Is Under Way

Medford is enthusiastic over the exposited success of the Irish bond certificate drive. Under the leadership of Charles T. Daly canvassers today began a "mopping up" of sections not covered by committees. Complete reports of the result of the drive will be made Sunday night at a mass meeting in the Bellevue Theatre. The quota for the city is $1000 but it is expected that twice that amount will be raised

THANKS "YOUNG PATRIOTS."—

The interest shown in Sunday night's meeting is increased by the fact several women speakers of note will discuss the Irish cause from an American viewpoint. They include Mrs. Mary Kenney O'Sullivan, well known in organized labor circles and Mildred Fraser Glavin '11 woman, journalist. Edward F. McSweeney, Charles T. Daly and Thomas J. Linehan of the Middlesex County board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will also speak.

Announcement was made by the Irish bond drive committee that Edward F. McSweeney will be the principal speaker at the Easter Week Rebellion celebration in Mechanics Hall, Charlestown, Sunday evening.

To fulfill the pledge of their organization—to help all nations struggling to be free—the Young Patriots, organized in that district over a year ago, have offered their services in the Irish bond certificate drive directors. Two divisions of the Patriots, all little girls between the ages of eight and fifteen years, have been subscribing for bonds already and others are boosting the cause of Ireland. John F. Hartigan, who has been chairman of the members of the patriot organization for their support.

Miss Mary A. Gore of the Young Patriots' central district headquarters in Cook's Hall is director in the purposes of their organization and the methods which they are using in Ireland in her struggle for freedom. The password of the patriots is America and Ireland, and the expression used between Patriots every time they meet is "Carry On."

CRUELTIES TO CHILDREN.

"We are trying to fulfill the pledges made to the soldiers who went overseas to defend Ireland," said Hartigan, "of homerule, organizer of the Patriots. During the war we helped the children of Belgium. In Ireland there are many little boys and girls who have had a harder time by far than those during the German children of the fatherland."

To these activities of the organization the Patriots subscribe. To do so they declared, means to help Irish children are being starved because they have parents of sympathies for the cause. In support of these statements made in public by prominent speakers. They said that never have they heard the stories of cruelties told so that they take it for granted that they are true.

The North Cambridge division, composed of twenty-five young girls, pledged their organization to buy a bond and the division that has also decided to buy a bond of the same denomination. The bonds of this sixth ward are first organization of the members planned but is strictly American and the purposes are American.

CLEAR NORMAN PREVO OF BURGLARY CHARGES

Norman Prevo of Woodbury street, Roxbury, was vindicated of charges of breaking and entering and of having burglar tools in his possession by Judge Ahearn in the Roxbury court. Prevo was arrested by Patrolman Stephen Douglas, one of the new policemen attached to station 9, in an apartment which Prevo had sublet. The so-called burglar tools were shown to be a bunch of keys to which Prevo always has access.

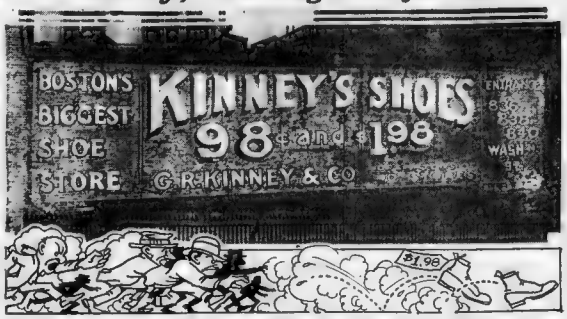
Shoes at 98 Cents to $1.98 a Pair--Surely, the Sign Says So



Doesn't this advertisement disturb the operation of your mental machinery and take you back to those good old days when $1.98 meant something more than a bit of change? It's a reminder of times that are gone—merely a sign that was left behind as the world moved on.

They are still advertising shoes in Boston, good ones, too, at from 98 cents to $1.98 a pair. If you don't believe it, look at the sign in the photograph.

The sign is real. It is on one of the walls at the entrance to the Washington street tunnel and is read daily by thousands of "L" passengers.

But alas, the prices it flaunts in the face of a price-ridden generation are no more. The firm has been out of business for years. The sign is merely a survival of that "prehistoric" period when shoes were only shoes, not investments.

A very little mental arithmetic will tell how times have changed. Such exercise is not recommended to purchasers who like to keep control of their tempers, however.

In the present advanced state of civilization it takes about $18 to buy a pair of shoes that won't creak when you walk down the aisle in your favorite church or movie house.

The first week they are likely to crack; the second, the soles show signs of disintegration; the third week you take them back and the clerk tells you he is sorry, but cows simply won't produce good leather any more.

The old sign is one of many of the long ago, which have not been knocked down in the march of progress.

GALLIVAN WOULD SEND ATHLETES ON TRANSPORT

New York, April 2—Congressman Gallivan of Massachusetts will introduce a bill in Congress authorizing the United States government to secure an army transport to send the American Olympic athletes to Antwerp this Summer.

The bill will require that the same treatment be accorded the athletes as was the case when Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors were sent overseas to take part in the big war. He contends that the best is none too good for the pick of American athletes.

DENOUNCE RAISE IN COAL PRICE

Miners Declare They Are Not Responsible for Operators' Action

New York, April 2—There is no reason why operators should increase the cost of coal to consumers because of the 27 per cent. increase the miners are to receive and no excuse whatever for boosting price from $1.35 to $1.50 a ton because thereof, according to Ellis Searles, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, in a statement just issued.

Mr. Searles stated that 14 per cent. of the 27 per cent. increase had been awarded to the miners by Dr. Garfield and that Dr. Garfield said that the 14 per cent could and should be absorbed by the operators and that they could afford to pay it out of their profits. The operators did not pay the increase out of their profits, Mr. Searles said, but passed it on to the consumers.

The grant of another 13 per cent. wage increase could not increase the cost of coal production more than from 40 to 50 cents a ton, and there had already been made an advance in selling price on the strength of the first 14 per cent. wage increase.

"Why should the operators boost the price $1.25 or $1.50 a town, even if they pass all of the increase on to the public?" demanded Mr. Searles. He added:

"If the operators make an unreasonable or unnecessary increase in the price of coal, the miners want the public to know they are not responsible for it."

PICK ADAIR TO MEET OUIMET

Atlanta Golfer Expected to Contest with Bay State Title Holder in Final Round

By ROBERT E. HARLOW.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 2.—From the appearance of things here today it seems probable that Jerry Ouimet of Boston and Jerry Adair of Atlanta would reach the final round of the North and South amateur golf championship. Five players were pulled in opposite halves of the draw and if they continue to live up to expectations will not be stopped until they come together.

All Pinehurst [illegible] the way things w[illegible] ured that Ouimet and Evans had a great East vs. West match at Oakmont in the National championship and that Adair and Ouimet would have a great East vs. South match if they met here. Adair has come along well in the past few weeks. This is partly due to Douglas Edgar, the professional at the Druid Hills Club of Atlanta.

Adair won the medal for the best score in the qualifying round when he covered the first eighteen holes in 72 strokes. Edgar was over the course with Adair and did much to assure that young man. Edgar left for Atlanta last night but said he would return in the event of Adair and Ouimet reaching the final round.

Pro Says Adair Will Have Fine Season

Adair is in for a great season, according to Edgar. He says that he has been working with Perry ever since he landed here at Atlanta [illegible] and that he is not by responsible for the poor showing Perry made in important events last year. He says that he expects his pupil to go as well this year as he did in 1919.

The Atlanta golfer was in the lead but one shot in the [illegible] 72 holes. This happened at the eighth hole. He topped a brassie into a trap and his third well on the green. Two over the hole. Edgar gave Adair advice all the way in and Ouimet blew [illegible] to win medal honors by one stroke. He hooked his tee shot to the woods at the second. His second was also out of bounds. He then needed four more to [illegible] on the fairway. His ball kept playing leap frog among the standing timber. At the third, Francis sliced to the rough and took six.

Having taken thirteen shots for two holes the Woodland golfer went well until he struck the sixteenth, where he was [illegible] over-anxious [illegible] and he topped the five. At the eighteenth [illegible] For these two holes he met both Twenty-five strokes and for the other fourteen holes he took fifty-five strokes.

The first section has some real class with such golfers as Perry Adair, Ouimet, Dick Brooks [illegible] St. Louis Jimmy Standish of Detroit, Harold Weber of Inverness and Fred Newton. As a matter of fact there are a good many golfers here who perhaps don't today in the main play in other than the first division. Some of these men come from Massachusetts.

49 Bay State and R. I. Golfers Finish

The Massachusetts delegation, aided by a handful from Rhode Island, finished the qualifying round 49 strong. It was topped by Francis with 76—80 156 and bettered by Henry Patton of Providence, who was willing to take 158 for the 36 holes. Twelve from Bay State did 165 or better, and those were scattered about in the early divisions.

The best comeback performance by a Massachusetts golfer was by W. H. Dillon of Alpine, who bettered his first round score of 91 by 16 shots. He had a neat 77 in the final whirl around the circuit, and stood fifth in the list of Massachusetts men. Their were many golfers from Boston and a number who [illegible] at the clubhouse on Friday night to have been under the [illegible] but their cards disagreed with them.

TAD'S TIDBITS

THE GREATEST FIGHTER HE EVER SAW.

Dear Mr. Tad—As a colored follower of pugilists, I'd like to have you print the list of famous fighters I've seen. Get those and then moan:

The cleverest: George Dixon
The gamest: Joe Jeanette.
The most aggressive: Young Peter Jackson.
The most pleasing to watch: Jack Blackburn.
The best fighter: Jack Johnson.
The best defensive: Jack Johnson
The toughest: George Godfrey.
The most dangerous: Joe Walcott
The craftiest: Mississippi
The shanelest: Joe Butler
The greatest of all: Joe Gans

Yours for thicker pork chops,

"HORSE SMITH."

Why Not. Why Not?

Dear Tad—I've been reading a lot lately about these rich anti saloon guys and other millionaires and the fun they have kissing humming birds, etc.

I have a lotta fun for a poor bloke but was thinking of having more. Why can't the poor start a fad of dressing up goldfish? Suits can be made from old socks or ties. No one needs a tie nowadays but a bald-headed guy, to tell whether he's going or coming.

Well, the old tin can's a-hangin' and rustlin' on the nail
Bye, bye.

POISON OAK O'MALLEY

Canada Cal's Chirps.

The Mexican bean has taken a jump.

And so the Italian workmen wouldn't work under Tierney, eh?

"No. They said they came to America as a land of freedom, and didn't propose to be oppressed by tyranny any longer."

"What does board cost here?" asked the stranger in America.

"That depends," replied the native. "If you are a timber it's way up, and if you mean table board, it's about $10 a week. But if you mean the Shipping Board, it would likely have cost the country $100,000,000 if it hadn't been called off."

There were enough players for [illegible] team in Greater Boston to Joseph Lynch, No. 6 Nazing [illegible] fifteen days out of match play.

MICKEY DEVINE MAKING GOOD

Scrappy Catcher Will Be Back Behind Bat Within a Week, He Says

By JACK CONWAY.

Nashville, Tenn., April 2.—Mickey Devine, recruit Red Sox catcher, declared today he would be prepared to [illegible] behind the bat within a week. The foul he injured during [illegible] at San Antonio is rapidly responding to treatment.

The Sox can stand players of the Devine type. He is a fighter on the ball field much along the style of Bill Carrigan. Mickey is only 157 pounds in weight but so [illegible] he runs at the plate you would think he scaled a ton. In the games he caught against New York [illegible] put six runners out at the plate. Benny [illegible] was considered among them.

Federal League Benny believed his speed would enable him to score from second base on a single to right. Hooper got the ball off quickly to Devine, who blocked the plate perfectly. Kauff smashed into Devine but failed to budge the gritty backstop. Instead Benny did a somersault over Devine and came down in a heap six feet beyond the plate. At the bat Devine had displayed an ability to hit the ball hard.

Need Schang to Round Out Catching Staff

Barrow would have a high class catching staff if Wallie Schang were with the team.

Schang's batting is greatly missed. Besides being one of the best receivers in the big league, Schang is a .300 hitter, and with Babe Ruth knocking out his home runs for the Yankees, the Sox can stand all the .300 hitters they can muster on the firing line. Tim Hendrys, who has been ill with ptomaine poisoning, was much improved today.

Manager Barrow announced that Russell and Hoyt would probably be his pit hers for today's conflict with the Giants.

The New Yorks are leading in the series by six games to three.

So I won't do the Sox any great harm to come through with a victory. A flock of bright little rain drops kayoed a perfectly good game at Jacksonville. The rain enabled the tired athletes to arrive here in time to get a night's rest in a regular bed.

YALE CREWS RACE ON SCHUYLKILL RIVER

Philadelphia, April 2—In a light rainfall Yale's varsity and junior crews raced over the Henley course of a mile and five-sixteenths on the Schuylkill. It was the last hard work out before the regatta with Penn.

The varsity stroked by Captain Churchill Peters, led the juniors until Lawrence in the stroke seat, to the imaginary finish line by about a length. Gus Nickalls, the coach, kept time and was well satisfied with the showing of his two shells.

BRAVES OUT TO GET TIGERS

Reverse True Also as Grand Tour Palls on Players; Series Is Still Tied

By NICK FLATLEY.

Durham, N. C., April 2—On the face of things the game here today twixt Braves and Tigers should be in the well-known Durham bag, but as a matter of fact it isn't. Both teams have been traveling the turbulent trail so long that the members thereof are sore on themselves an' everybody else.

The grand old series repains a tie because it rained at Goldsboro. When Shakespeare or Ring Lardner, or somebody, said there wasn't only one thing a comedy must have—a curtain—at the finish. The climax took away the humor from Hamlet, which was something we believed impossible but it shows you never can tell on a training trip.

Getting back to fact, however, three innings had been played when the game became all wet. Detroit was ahead 3 to 1, when Umpire Bill Finneran couldn't stand the natural answer both way longer, and called it a day. The guarantees down this way call for three and a half innings of pass, but after a bit of argument the gate collection was handed over and the ball clubs took the gold out of Goldsboro.

Game Shaped Up as Real Battle

The game shaped up as a real battle as far as the elements permitted, and the fighting was resumed here everybody being pleased that the arrangements don't call for double-headers after postponements. That's one pastime that Detroit can't, as good and will be out of action for a few days.

Bert Ellison, the leading slugger of the excursion, pulled a charley horse while using the bunkers in the outfield. Chick Gandil is ready and will spin in centerfield. Ty Cobb is due to enlist. Nobody knows Tyrus at bat and all the other stars are announcing schemes that turn next spring will be staged with their presence. The stars, we mean.

Speaking of heroes reminds us that Rabbit Maranville wowed all and showed the Goldsboro populace that he can field just as well as ever. He will have a few more days' rest on account, however, as Manager Stallings is anxious to give Ford all the work possible.

Stallings Sweet on Young Ford

Boss George is very sweet on the Ford youngster, as you can deduce from the following. As it keeps looking better every day. He isn't like most youngsters, you only have to tell him something once and he doesn't forget it. He never makes the same mistake twice and picks up signs as quickly as the veteran and his hitting has sure been a surprise.

"He surely hits the ball and outguess him, and sure takes a good cut at the ball. He has been trying as well as any of the Braves and takes his swing in the pinches, which is the answer on your real ball player.

"Of course the Rabbit can't roll off all by himself and will have the Braves a hundred per cent. to get when he's back, but with Ford is around, I can let Maranville take a complete rest and I'll finish this trip where the season ends."

Frank Fohey was tossed to have his first trial under fire today, receiving whoever starts. Frank hasn't tried to put all his stuff on the ball yet, but he sure has strength and considerable speed and no doubt of a flock of control. Johnston has announced that he was likely to try a couple of his southpaws on the team before cutting down to the thirteen limit and there are a few that will have to go.

Pick Harvard Nine for Southern Trip

When the Harvard baseball nine puts out two weeks hence bound for the South the following men will be on board under Jack Slattery's wing: Bobo Fetton, Everett Hartsell, Dud Harrison, Woody Howard, Phil Goode, Tubby Chase, pitchers; Ray Lamoriello, Jerry Murray, Tom Hammack, catchers; Art Burr, Ned Rigelow, Captain Emmons, Dicko Conlon, Ned Lincoln, Cooney Mason, Bill Lowe, Dennie Shea, infielders; Dud Hallowell, Babe Frothingham, Ken Perkins, Leonard Hallock, Frank Crocker and Eddie Hoole, outfielders. One or two more men may be added to the list later in the week. Training starts Monday at the Varsity Club.

PITTSBURGH AND N. Y. BOXERS IN A. A. U. BOUTS

Pittsburgh has sent the following entries for the National A. A. U. boxing championships at Mechanics Building April 5 and 6: One hundred and eight, Terry McManus of the Willow A. Barry of the Pittsburgh Lyceum; 145, William Campbell of the Homestead Library Association; 158, Frank Graybeer 175, Frank Graber and John Burke of the Willow A. C. The last named will also compete in the heavyweight class.

Ten New York boxers will represent the Metropolitan Association. They are: One hundred and eight, A. De Vito, Paulist A. C.; 125, W. Cohan, St. Christopher's Club; 135, Sol Seeman, Brooklyn A. TRIPLE A MATCHES BRITT AND TENDLER

Frankie (Young) Britt of New Bedford, holder of the New England light weight and welterweight titles, has been matched to meet Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia Philadelphia lightweight, the bout to be secured by the Armory A. A. of this city and the date for April 27.

This bout, which looms as the greatest of the present season, will be staged at Mechanics Building. The boxers have agreed to make 133 pounds, the lightweight limit, at 9 o'clock on the evening of the battle.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Harry Hooper, the wonderful veteran of the Red Sox, and "Pep" Young, the great kid of the Giants, carry off the honors in the dope of the right fielders. These two stand almost alone among the right fielders of the country, although the development of Southworth, one of the finds of recent years, places him in a position to dispute Young's claim to the premiership, if not this season, then before many years.

There is more difficulty in figuring dope on right fielders than in calculating position strength of any other position. This for the reason that, in so many cases, one is compelled to calculate combination strengths because of the habit of managers of shifting outfielders because of right and left handed pitching and because of ability of some to play sunfields.

Because of this it is practically impossible to say that any one man will keep right field warm all season, although a few do stick to the same job no matter what the conditions. The others do not and therefore the figures in the case of the majority represent the combined strengths and weaknesses.

Four Clubs as Yet Undecided

On top of that there are still four clubs that have not made the final decision as to who the "regular" right fielder will be and it probably will be necessary to amend the right field figures in the final summing up of team strengths. However, while some teams may improve their figures, there is extremely small chance that any of the new men will show enough strength to crowd up among the leaders.

Position strengths in right show a greater range of difference than is usual in major leagues. The position, in fact, is satisfactorily filled in only ten of the sixteen clubs, and the other six hold the jobs not because of their own strength but because no stronger candidates have been developed.

Brooklyn, of course, makes the big gain. The discovery of this youngster Neis appears to be one of the surprises of the spring. If the reports are true, and if the form he has been showing since the Robins went into training continues during the playing season, Brooklyn has picked up a comer prar in the outfield and, better than that, a man who may develop into one of the great lead-off batters of the country.

There are extremely few good lead off men now in the game, and to find one of the Roy Thomas, Willie Keeler, Jimmy Slagle and Topsy Hartsel class would be like picking up a fortune.

Detroit Strength Due To Flagstead

Detroit's strength in right is due to the attacking power of Flagstead, and the reserve attacking power which Jennings seems always to possess.

The showing of the New York Yankees in the figures is a serious disappointment. The figures are combination ones of Ruth, Vick and Meusel, and in no way can I figure the team to strengthen right field much. Possibly if Huggins assigns Meusel to the job regularly there may be considerable improvement. With Ruth in that job steadily the figures show only a trifle more strength than the combination of three reveals. With Vick there regularly the attacking power of the team is reduced greatly, although some speed is gained. It looks to me to be a hard problem for Huggins to dope out.

Cleveland again shows fair strength in right, a position in which I expected the figures to show the Indians lacking, and the St. Louis Cards have a better right fielder defensive than I anticipated.

In the next article we will compile the outfield figures and see how the teams compare in that regard. This is important because the great "punch" of major league teams usually is centered among the outfielders.

FORE RIVER TO PLAY N. Y. SOCCER TEAM

Soccer enthusiasts will gather at Quincy tomorrow to witness the much-heralded New York Club in its clash with Fore River in the fifth round of the national challenge cup series, the ultimate winner of which will wear the soccer crown of the United States for the season of 1919-20.

It will be the first visit of the New York team to this section, and as it will be the only game hereabouts a record number of followers of the sticking game is expected on the Quincy pitch.

WAKEFIELD HIGH TO PLAY IN TWO LEAGUES

Wakefield High School's baseball team will compete in two leagues this year, the Mystic Valley and the Middlesex. The battle with Boston Cpllege High is the only non-league contest it will engage in.

Boy Scouts' Meet

Boy Scouts of Medford will hold an athletic meet tomorrow afternoon in the Medford High School gymnasium. A good of interest has been stirred up among the youngsters and it is the hope of the managers to make this a most successful affair.

FULLER ENTERS LEGION RACE

National Cross-Country Title Holder to Compete in 10-Mile Event

Fred Fuller national cross-country champion, has entered in the tenmile open handicap road race of the Michael J. Connell post of the American Legion, Jamaica Plain. The E. F. distance runner believes he ought to lower Jimmy Henigan's record for the course, in 1912.

The race will start and finish at the new high school going over the same route as in other years. The legion post is offering twelve prizes for the event, and Arthur T. Connolly is the athletic officer of the post, Jamaica Plain.

Pick B. C. Stars for Navy Olympic Team

Jake Driscoll and Walter Dowley, both of Boston College, are the first athletes of Greater Boston to be selected for trials for the United States navy track team, which is being formed to compete with the teams of other nations at the Olympic games.

Both have been ordered by Lieutenant Commander Meigs of the first naval district to report May 1 at Newport for the initial tryouts for this section of the country. The winners at Newport will be sent to Guilfport, Miss., for one month's training previous to the Olympic sectional trials at Philadelphia in June.

MAY 9 NAMED AS DATE OF FRENCH OLYMPIC TRIALS

Paris, April 2. The minister of war has officially designated May 9 as the date for the first elimination trials among the French athletes for the selection of a team to represent France at the Olympic games in Antwerp.

ARMORY AND FENWAY BOUTS WILL CLASH

The clash of dates between the Armory A. A. and the Fenway A. A. makes it pretty hard for the poor fan to decide which show to attend.

The Armory card will bring together Harry Kid Brown of Philadelphia and Johnny Downes of South Boston for twelve rounds, with Bert Jones of Revere and Johnny Brown of Newport in the semi-final.

The Fenway bouts are all of a high order, with Paul Doyle swapping punches with Barney Adair in one battle, Frank Tillo and Al Calsone in another and Pal Reed and Johnny Wilson in the third twelve-rounder.

Who Discovered Ricoro?

Told by a Professor

"..... The quality is phenomenal—and the price is like a course in economics."

"A Ouija Board discovered Ricoro", replied the professor, as he moved the ash-tray nearer. "It happened at a clairvoyant investigation we conducted at the University.

"A famous European clairvoyant was at the seance, and after he'd made a few passes over the Ouija Board, the little three-legged planchette spelled the word 'R-i-c-o-r-o.'

"'Ricoro?' asked one of the scientists, in an awed voice, 'What does that mean?'

"'I can tell you that!' interrupted the Dean, 'Ricoro is the name of these delightful cigars'. He passed around some fine, slim panetelas, and everyone, including the medium, lighted up.

"'Now', said the medium, 'with the aid of the Ouija Board, I will endeavor to divine the price of these marvelous smokes'.

"Again the Ouija planchette moved — quickly spelling out 'T-w-e-n-t-y f-i-v-e c-e-n-t-s'

"'Wrong', shouted the Dean, 'though it's a natural mistake! These Ricoros sell for 9c in every United Cigar Store in the country!

Sooner or later, you'll discover Ricoro. It's mildness and balmy tropic richness will please you as much as its price will astonish you. Ricoro is imported from Porto Rico duty free, so it costs no more than domestic cigars. A dozen shapes and sizes —8c to 3 for 50c. Sold only in United Cigar Stores. "Thank You!"

PRATT AND BODIE MAY COME TO RED SOX IN TRADE

New York, April 2.—Negotiations have been entered into by the local American League club for the transfer of Derrill Pratt and Ping Bodie to the Boston Red Sox. An outfielder and a first-string pitcher, it is under stood, are to come in exchange, though no names were mentioned in the announcement given out at the headquarters of the Yankees.

Both Pratt and Bodie are on the bad books of Manager Miller Huggins, the former for his activities in the recently threatened strike over third place money, which all but prevented the Yankees-Reds game at Jacksonville and the latter for "running out" from the training camp a couple of weeks ago. At the time Bodie broke training Huggins announced that the Californian would never again wear the uniform of the New York club and the present negotiations merely mark the first effort of the Yankee field leader to make good his threat.

Hats of Master Craftmanship

The why and wherefore that brings the town's most careful dressers to one of the Delano Shops for their hats is summed up in two words and a bow, "We're specialists." Delano soft tops, for instance, have not only honest quality and expert craftmanship to recommend them, but that distinction in design that makes a fellow exclaim, "That's a bird of a hat." Our array of soft hats for Easter was never finer. Eight and ten dollars.

The Delano Lad observes that a Delano Easter scarf is essential if you want to go over big with it. Ask for one on Sunday. Fresh Spring hat terms, $2 to $5.

The freshmen and sophomores meet on Tech Field Saturday afternoon in the first game of the season for either team.

AGAINST BASEBALL FOR COLLEGES SUNDAY

In the event of the Legislature passing a law permitting Sunday baseball, Intel Coach Dick Slattery of the Harvard nine and Coach Jennings, the veteran mentor, oppose the proposition for college baseball men. Both say the college lads have enough practice six days a week without working on the Sabbath. Slattery says such a law, however, will be a boon for the fellows who have to work, and is a great booster for Sunday ball on that account.

FIGURES FAVOR SCHOOLBOYS

Contention of Inferiority of the Oxford-Cambridge Marks Proved by Records

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

No less a person than our revered contemporary, Arthur Duffey, than whom no greater sprinter ever chopped up a cinder path, has taken issue with a statement appearing in this column to the effect that an American schoolboy track and field team had it been at best to compete, would have outscored the varsity athletes of Oxford and Cambridge in their recent dual meet in Merrie England.

For one or another reason Arthur desired the world to know that in the distant past he himself raced on British running tracks and, as a means of introducing his announcement, he chose to employ three laughs and no less than four poohpoohs at our contention in favor of American schoolboys.

The original article began with, "An American schoolboy Team." Arthur, in his quaint fashion, interpreted this as "Any American schoolboy team," which interpretation somewhat befogs the issue and causes one to wonder if Arthur ought not to visit an oculist.

Further cause for speculation as to the state of Arthur's eyesight comes in the fact that he apparently overlooked some very telling figures included in the original article. By the aid of a magnifying glass, in lieu of the arrival of his spectacles, he might find the accompanying table somewhat enlightening.

From this table Friend Arthur may see how far American schoolboys have excelled the Oxford-Cambridge marks. Of course, all these schoolboy records were not made in a single year, but it should take but a brief time to assemble from the schoolboy ranks of this season several athletes capable of bettering the Oxford-Cambridge marks in the high jump, hammer throw, shot put and 120-yard hurdles, while one or two others might surpass the broad jump mark and equal the dash performances of the fir fritiners.

It would take out four such schoolboy winners to outscore the British contestants. Hence the original assertion which Friend Arthur has seen fit to misquote and then question.

How U. S. Youngsters Would Shape Against British Athletes

Huggins Must Select New Lead-Off Batter

By SAM CRANE

Jacksonville, Fla., April 2.—With Wilson Fewster not to be considered as even a possibility on Manager Huggins' team for at least three months, according to the opinion of his physicians, the Yankee manager is confronted with the task of selecting a new lead-off batsman.

Fewster showed ability in that important role and doubtless would have been developed into an ideal player to start off the batting order. The only men now left, who are considered eligible to lead off, are Pratt, O'Doul and Frank Gleich, and Huggins seems to favor the latter.

To an outsider, though, judging by what both these outfielders have shown in their spring training work, O'Doul appears to be much the speedier on his feet and has more dash and fighting spirit than Gleich, who seems to lack aggressiveness.

Gleich, however, looks the ball over closer than does O'Doul and is the better waiter. It may be that he appeals to Huggins more on that account.

But surely O'Doul has demonstrated that he is the better hitter and faster by far on the bases, especially so in getting down to first. The question arises is not a player who can by his sprinting ability keep opposing players always on the alert to head him off at first, and who is speedy all the way around the bases paths just as worthy of consideration as lead-off man as one who is merely a good waiter?

O'Doul Has Proved Steady Hitter

Huggins is said to hold the opinion that O'Doul has a poor stand at the plate, that his foot work at the plate is not proper and therefore he cannot become a good batter. However, O'Doul has been about the most consistent hitter on the Yank team so far this Spring and he has faced all sorts of pitching including that of Manager Robbie's crack staff of twirlers, who are now using as good ball as they will all season.

O'Doul, in fact, has shown results. Surely any batter who has shown such natural hitting ability as he did might to be able to overcome minor faults while at bat if he has any. Huggins has paid more attention to Gleich than he has to O'Doul and possibly has more promise of his future value to the team than any others. Still O'Doul is not a player who should be neglected when it comes to a choice of a lead-off man or for a regular player on the team.

O'Doul would be snapped up in short order were he to be put on the market. He is too valuable as an all around player not to be retained.

Operation on Fewster Is Ordered

The latest report from the specialists who are attending Fewster in Baltimore is that unless the patient recovered his speech yesterday an operation would be performed today to relieve the pressure on his vocal nerve. That is taken to mean there is a blood clot that must be removed and may denote a fracture of the skull. The operation, while it is not considered to be very dangerous will probably make it impossible for Fewster to resume playing for several months.

There was no practice taken yesterday by the Yankees either in the morning or afternoon. Rain fell during the morning and the afternoon atmosphere contained too much moisture although no rain fell, to suit Huggins for workouts. The players, therefore, had a full day off. They now have but three more days in which to train and today and Saturday games with the Dodgers are scheduled which will probably eliminate morning work by the regulars.

LAWRENCE AFTER BRITT-BOYLE CLASH ON 19TH

Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Frankie Britt of New Bedford will meet on April 19 if the efforts of leading New England clubs to bring these boys together go through. The dope seems to favor a Lawrence club, the event to take place in O'Sullivan Park, although Boston matchmakers are said to have made bids for the scrap.

HARVARD RACES UNION B. C.

Crews to Clash Late Tomorrow on Charles; Fridays to Be Regatta Days

The Harvard and Union Boat Club eights will clash late tomorrow on the Charles. The Crimson varsity and second eight will have a splendid opportunity to try its form against a rugged opponent. All Harvard's notables will be on hand for the bash, including Bob Herrick, former head coach, who is likely to accept the job of putting the Unions in shape for the English Henley. Pete Higginson, chairman of the rowing committee, Ned Storrow and Dr. Paul Withington.

Every Friday hereafter is going to be regatta day on the Charles for the lower freshman and the class crews. The eights will be encouraged to challenge each other, and it is expected that the idea will prove a big success and develop material for the representative crews.

TUOHEY SEEKS ORLANDO TO MEET STRANGLER LEWIS

Promoter Tuohey has offered a tempting proposition to Orlando, the winner of the recent Stockholm international tournament, to meet Strangler Lewis in Mechanics' Building next Thursday night in one of the matches which will make up the all-star tournament. Orlando, greatly impressed [illegible] in the mat game in New York, and with his great speed and power looks like an ideal opponent for the head-lock artist.

Harvard's training table in track starts Monday with the following diners at breakfast: Captain O'Connell, Ned Gourdin, George Krogness, Bob Harwood, Fred Church, Burnham Lewis, Bayard Wharton, Blake Brown, Charley Bond, Bill Goodwin, John Laird and Manager John Keene. This Day in History—April 2, 1920

THIS is the anniversary of the death, in 1791, of the Count de Mirabeau, the famous orator and statesman, who exercised such great influence in the stormy days just prior to the French Revolution. Mirabeau left many famous works, the chief of which is his history of Frederick the Great.

Nepal Women and Dress

THE women of Nepal have no purdah system, the false modesty of covering the face with a veil. They freely move, and share the burden of responsibilities of maintenance of the family. The women often wear a kind of short skirt and bodice made of the cloth woven in their family loom.

THE YOUNG DIANA

An Experiment of the Future

Story of Extraordinary Mystery, in Which the Heroine Holds Key to Youth and Beauty

THERE would be some intellectual stimulus in the Dimitius household — of that she felt convinced. But in what form, or of scientific research, or what problem of chemistry her services would be required, she could not, with all her capacity for wondering, form any idea.

She walked leisurely back to the hotel, looking at the shops on her way—at the little carved wooden boxes carrying pink-and-green peppers and pinnacles—at the inevitable clocks, with cuckoos and without—at the "souvenirs" of pressed and mounted edelweiss, inscribed with tender mottoes suitable for lovers to send to one another in absence—and before one window full of these she paused, smiling.

"What nonsense it all is," she said to herself. "I used to keep the faded petals of any little flower I chanced to see in his buttonhole, and put them away in envelopes marked with his initials and the date! what a fool I was! as great a fool as that sublime donkey, Juliette Drouet, who raved over her little man, Victor Hugo! And the silly girls who send the edelweiss from Switzerland to the men they are in love with ought just to see what those men do with it! That would cure them! Like the Professor who totalled up his butchers's bill on the back of one of Charlotte Bronte's fervent letters, nine out of ten of them are likely to use it as a wedge to keep a window or door from rattling!

Amused with her thoughts, she went on, reached her hotel and had luncheon, after which she paid her bill. "Madame is leaving us?" said the cheery dame du comptoir, speaking very volubly in French. "Alas, we are sorry her stay is so short! Madame goes on to Montreux, no doubt?"

"Madame" smiled at the amiable woman's friendly inquisitiveness.

"No," she answered—"And yet—perhaps—yes! I am taking a long holiday and hope to see all the prettiest places in Switzerland."

"Ah, there is much that is grand —beautiful!" declared the proprietress. "You will occupy much time! You will perhaps return here again?"

"Oh, yes! That is very likely!" replied Diana, with a flagrant assumption of candor. "I have been very comfortable here."

"Madame is too good to say so! We are charmed! The luggage has gone to the station? Yes? That is well! Au revoir, Madame!"

Escaped at Last

And with many gracious nods and smiles and repeated au revoirs, Diana escaped at last, and went forward to the station, solely for the benefit of the hotel people, servants included, who stood at the doorway watching her departure. But once out of their sight she turned rapidly down a side street which she had taken note of in the morning, and soon found her way back to the one little alley under trees with the steps which led to the border of the lake, but which was barred to strangers and interlopers by an iron gate through which she had already passed, and of which she had the key. There was no difficulty in unlocking it and locking it again behind her, and she drew a long breath of relief and satisfaction when she found herself once more in the grounds of the Chateau Fragonard.

"There" she said half aloud—"I have shut away the world—become as dead myself to everything that is not my good fortune. Perhaps there will be some [illegible] what he—some terrible [illegible]—who knows? And I [illegible]. Anyhow, I have gained [illegible] and delivered myself over to my chosen destiny; and I hope [illegible] for the best that [illegible] worst."

Arrived at the side door of the [illegible] opened, and passed [illegible] as an old family [illegible] household. She took a few moments [illegible] herself and [illegible] and then she asked the way to her room. The girl at once preceded her up the wide staircase and showed her the passage leading to the beautiful suite of apartments she had seen in the morning, remarking,

Quite Private

"Madame will be quite private here—this passage is shut off from the rest of the house, and is an entry to these rooms only, and if Madame wants any service she will ring and I will come. My name is Rose."

"Thank you, Rose!" and Diana smiled at her, feeling a sense of relief to know that she could have the attention of a simple ordinary domestic such as this pleasant-looking little French femme-de-chambre—for somehow she had connected the dumb negro who had at first admitted her to the Chateau with a whole imagined retinue of mysterious persons, sworn to silence in the service of Dimitrius. "I will not trouble you more than I can help—hark!—what is that noise?"

A low, organ-like sound as of persistent thudding and humming echoed around her—it suggested suppressed thunder. The girl Rose looked quite unconcerned.

"Oh, that is the machine in the Doctor's laboratory," she said. "But it does not often make any noise. We do not know quite what it is—we are not permitted to ask!" She smiled, and added: "But Madame will not long be disturbed—it will soon cease."

AS the icicles and the snow-mounds of her Winter turban and coatie melt away and shrink into 'emselves, April's darling face is born; and what do you think peeks out—a collar of dainty blue flowers—a spray of them over one merry eye and the rim of her little straw bonnet where they spill over.

RACHEL

ONE of the loveliest of biblical names is Rachel, meaning ewe. The first Rachel was the daughter-in-law of Rebekah. The aspirate in the middle of her name is more softly marked where, in the prophet Jeremiah, her descendants, the Benjaminite women, who dwell around her early grave Bethlehem, are spoken of as "Rachel weeping for her children because they are not," and are assured that they shall come again to their own border.

Copyright by Harris & Ewing

But she is Rachel again where Saint Matthew shows the mothers of Bethlehem weeping over their lambs. Dante made Lantica Rachel with her beautiful eyes, the type of heavenly contemplation, ever gazing at the mirror that reflected heavenly glory, but her name was not popular, although the Manx princess Affrica was thus translated upon her marriage with Somerled, Lord of the Isles, somewhere about the eleventh century.

But Puritan days loved the sound of the word and "that sweet saint who sat by Russell's side" has given it a place in English families. Rachel was the name borne by the lady who became the wife of Varuhagen von Ense. With the exception of the two different forms of spelling, Rachel is without diminutive or contraction. It is one of the few names that might take its sweetness and dignity throughout its history. The name has been a favorite with painters and many saintly type of pure transcendent beauty has been so named.

Rachel's gem is the amethyst. Its soft violet color has a sobering effect upon quick tempers, controls evil thoughts, and quickens the intelligence.

Soldiers wearing an amethyst are said to be preserved from harm, and the gem is believed to have the power to protect its wearer from contagion. To dream of it signifies freedom from harm. Saturday is Rachel's lucky day and 4 her lucky number. Her flower is the primrose, signifying youthfulness.

They Don't Speak Now!

"So glad to meet you, Grace," said the girl in the tailor-made. "I was just on my way to your house to ask you, as my oldest friend, to be one of my bridesmaids."

"Bridesmaids! How lovely! I did not know you were engaged," replied Grace.

"It's sudden—very sudden. But he's awfully in love, and just too lovely to live. Will you do it?"

"Of course! I'll be charmed. But"—she dropped her voice to a whisper—"do come around the corner and tell me all about it. Here comes that idiotic, irrepressible donkey, Jim Berton. He's grinning as though he meant to stop, and I don't wish to be seen talking to him."

"Jim Berton! He's the man I'm going to marry!"

The other woman said nothing, there was a [illegible] as Gina shook herself together. "We've got to save him from himself—we've got to."

"You think we can?" asked the other.

"We must," said Gina. "There will be a way, we've got to find it."

But as the days went into weeks the way [illegible]

[illegible] which Gina had so confidently hoped to find, seemed more remote than ever.

The girl talked to her father; with the frankness that had always been part of their life together she told him her secret.

And with the characteristic greatness of heart he took her to his arms and told her he would do what he could [illegible] and [illegible] a trifle up and down [illegible] but even he could suggest nothing in this difficult case.

Leon's mother watched with dry eyes [illegible] after [illegible] little ejaculations to [illegible] her son some dormant memory that would wake his soul. All in vain; through sunny days the boy who had stirred the world by his marvelous playing seemed as fine dead to emotion.

Indifferent and apathetic he met old friends and [illegible] them away with shaking heads and wet eyes. And all the while his arms seemed to be a useless thing and his violin a forgotten treasure.

Hancock saw him thus and could not trust himself to speak. He met Gina Berg as he went out and stopped her.

"What are you going to do?" he asked her.

"I?" she looked at him in astonishment.

"Yes?" he reiterated, "YOU can make him play again."

"Tell me how," begged the girl, her resentment vanishing under the pronoun held out in his words.

"The doctor said he might get back if something happened to him—why don't you try something—take his violin and give it to him when he refuses to play—tell him it's no good and pretend you're going to smash it."

Gina held out the instrument to the man in the chair, but he only shook his head, and then as if in a rage she raised it high and made as though to smash it over the sill of the grass portico.

A loud cry from Abraham shattered the silence, as startled out of his brooding Leon leaped up and seized her arm with the hand supposed to be incapable of action.

The two in dumb surprise stood slowly withdrew her hold—it slowly fell in the hand of Leon passed to and with a swiftness that left no pause to how that could make it appear.

Almost automatically the atonement was swung into position by Leon's left hand, automatically he seized the bow with his right and drawing it across the strings there leaped forth the strain not of the words of the young poet who died on the battlefield.

Hancock had opened the door just a little. Maxima Kantor stood with face transfixed; the girl heard with bated breath.

"Thanks Leon, thanks!"

He lay down the violin and into his open arms, folding [illegible] about her, great Gina. The door of the adjoining room closed softly.

"Not a rendezvous with death a rendezvous with love" said Leon

THE END.

When a Girl Marries

TOMORROW I might once more like her critically, with tempered enthusiasm. Tonight I—completely liked her. Just at the point where I became sure of that a creamy voice broke into our conversation.

"Anne, dear, I've been trying to get your eye for ages. How nice to find you here. May we have our coffee with you?"

It was Valerie Cosby. And at her side stood Tom Mason.

"Val's such a child—impetuous. Red-blooded, self-willed under that [illegible] lacquer of hers—don't let [illegible] Englishman of yours twist her around his finger," muttered Tom close to my ear.

I wanted to burst out laughing. So this was the mental picture of herself with which Val was [illegible] the evidently infatuated Tom. Why? After the first, normal human pang of chagrin at the way she had effected me from his consciousness, I had a sudden feeling of gratitude toward Val for stepping in between me and the always unwelcome attentions of Tom Mason.

But what did Val want of Tom? Did she like him? Was she consolidating her self with him for Jim's loss of interest?

Val's motives didn't reveal themselves clearly.

There were moments when I felt that even she didn't know exactly what kind of a game she was playing, or that perhaps it was complicated for her by warring desires.

"Why don't you all come down to my place and have a little bridge?" she suggested suddenly. "Annie wants to learn and there is a wonderful line, for we'd both have to sit up long, lonely hours for our bubbies if our good friends didn't entertain. Do play—don't you, Mason Sturgeon?"

There was calculated insolence in the way she turned to Carlotta Sturges and mispronounced her name.

"All right, Mister Tyrant," replied Val, smiling out of narrowed eyes. "But would you give us a lift homeward bound, too? We taxied out and I've been the Sureys limousine. So you can understand why luxury-loving Val needs a ride."

Tony acquiesced gracefully, but Tom [illegible] awkward [illegible] first words and it didn't faded up to the time we stopped before Tom's door after [illegible] Certain [illegible] play—don't you, Mason Sturgeon?"

SCORE VICTORY IN DEAN CASE

Gov. Bartlett Orders State Attorney to Confer with Federal Officials

Concord, N. H., April 2—Governor Bartlett has ordered Attorney-General Oscar L. Young to consult with the United States Department of Justice relative to the murder of Dr. William Kendrick Dean and to examine evidence collected by Federal agents which the State of New Hampshire has never acted upon.

Mr. Young has been instructed to confer with Superintendent George E. Kelleher, who has charge of the New England division of the Department of Justice, with headquarters in Boston.

TO OPEN FEDERAL FILES.

It is a significant and important development and marks another victory for the relatives of Dr. Dean and for the Selectmen and the people of Jaffrey, who for nineteen months have been fighting to avenge the slaying of a respected and patriotic American citizen by enemy agents while the United States was at war with Germany.

Announcement of the correspondence in the case that passed between Concord and Washington was made today by William E. Wallace, secretary to Governor Bartlett, who said:

"It is true that Governor Bartlett recently received a letter from the Department of Justice in Washington concerning the Dean case. The letter stated that the Federal officials had evidence which they felt would help the State in handling the case and that the Federal files were available to any legal representative delegated by the Governor.

"The letter mentioned that the selectmen of Jaffrey and relatives of Dr. Dean, with counsel, had conferred with Department of Justice officials in Washington; that an iron-clad rule of the department prevented the members of the delegation from viewing the files, but that under certain conditions such confidential Federal records were open to examination by responsible State authorities and that the Dean case created such a contingency.

YOUNG TO TAKE ACTION.

"Governor Bartlett directed me to turn the letter over to Attorney-General Young with the recommendation that he get in touch with Superintendent Kelleher in Boston. Mr. Young said he would do so."

The interview with Secretary Wallace occurred in the Executive Chamber. Attorney Harry N. Guterman, of Boston, counsel for the town of Jaffrey, was present. Attorney Guterman questioned Mr. Wallace about the matter after the latter had admitted to a Boston American representative that Governor Bartlett had received the letter from Washington and had answered it.

Attorney Guterman also conferred with Attorneys Robert C. and Alexander Murchie, who are acting for the Selectmen as New Hampshire counsel in the murder inquiry.

Apart from what may develop from the conference between the State and Federal authorities, steps are under way along another channel which promise developments of an important nature very soon.

Attorney-General Young and County Solicitor Roy M. Pickard differed on seriously with the views of the Federal investigators that the Department of Justice tried to have a representative at the Cheshire County Grand Jury meeting last April, which Federal agents and Jaffrey officials and the people at large considered incomplete and unsatisfactory.

At the last meeting between that the Selectmen and their counsel held with Governor Bartlett he told them he thought the Federal authorities ought to take the initial action to establish a motive in the Dean case. It is understood that the communication from Washington informed the Governor that the evidence in possession of the Department of Justice would show all the motive necessary and other-wise shed light on the tragedy, if the State cared to take advantage of the same.

Veteran Federal Agent Made Chief Deputy

JAMES A. TIGHE (standing) and U. S. MARSHAL DUANE.

James A. Tighe, for many years a deputy United States marshal under Marshals Munchie and Mitchell, is today the Chief Deputy United States Marshal for this district. His appointment was announced by United States Marshal Patrick J. Duane.

Chief Deputy Tighe is considered one of the most capable attaches of the office. His knowledge of the Federal codes and procedure is held second to none in the service.

As a deputy marshal he has figured in numerous important cases, having a big part in the seizure of the German liners, arrest of pro-Germans and roundup of alleged Reds. Tighe has long been classed as an expert on sugar men and postoffice robbers.

Marshal Duane was appointed to the post by Judge James M. Morton, Jr. He will fill the balance of the term for which John J. Mitchell was originally appointed. Marshal Duane was formerly mayor of Waltham.

HIGH SUGAR UP TO PALMER

Congress to Summon Attorney-General Monday to Explain Famine Menace

Washington, April 2.—Disturbed by the prevailing high price of sugar and the threats of another sugar famine, committees of the Senate and the House have made plans to call Attorney-General Palmer to account for the situation and explain why Volstead of the Judiciary Committee to probe the sugar situation, as provided in the Tinsham resolution which the House recently adopted.

Senator McNary's committee will first hear George A. Zabriskie, head of the Sugar Equalization Board, which is constituted by Herbert Hoover for the avowed purpose of prices continue so high.

Senator McNary of Oregon, chairman of the sugar investigating committee of the Senate, announced that he will renew the investigation next Monday. In the House, a sub-committee was appointed by Chairman maintaining sugar prices at a reasonable level.

CHARGES FRAUD IN LAWRENCE INSURANCE

Lawrence, April 2.—Claiming that the insurance was illegally awarded to firms and individuals not entitled to the name of insurance agents, Edward L. Arundel, who was awarded a portion of the insurance for the companies he represents here, refuses to issue the policies.

Mr. Arundel claims that firms in business here thirty years were not given any more consideration than those which sprang up over night. He charged also that there are individuals who are not in the insurance business who received portions. He termed them "agents for a day."

Foreign Exchange

Values are as much a matter of time and place as are manners and customs. Just now dollars are cheap at home and dear abroad. Italy, for instance, is bidding 19.50 Lire for one American dollar. This is equivalent to paying $3.86 normal value of her money for $1.

Dollars are quoted in France at 14.20 Francs, normal value $2.74.

German money is at such a discount that it requires 76 Marks to purchase one dollar. The pre-war value of 76 Marks was $18.08.

Due to this temporary derangement of International Exchange

$1,000 WILL BUY

	Normal Value	Possible Profit
19,800 Lire	$3,821	$2,821
14,200 Francs	2,740	1,740
76,000 Marks	18,088	17,088

It would seem to be good business to buy where the purchasing power of our money is the greatest and to invest where its earning capacity is highest. The best way to take advantage of prevailing Exchange rates is to purchase the Government and Municipal Bonds of France, Italy and Germany.

Profits of 200%, 300% and 1380%, respectively, are possible on the purchase of these bonds at today's prices.

Should the Mark regain its pre-war value a 100,000-Mark Bond, costing about $1,700, would be worth $23,800. Marks at one-fourth normal (6 cents) would mean a profit of $4,150 on an investment of $1,700.

We advise the immediate purchase of these securities, as the tendency of exchange rates is upward and will likely be much higher in the near future.

Telephone or telegraph, our expense, for quotations.

IT'S WHITE AND $1.05

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS:

We send you this Good Friday greeting that the price of your shares is now $1.05. Over a year ago you were told that the price of your shares would double, at least, before manufacturing began. We have made good, and nothing succeeds like success. In a short time NEW SAFETY PAPER will be financed, then for turning out the finished product.

We have a number of inquiries as to what effect the Attorney-General's attitude would have upon our enterprise. As we understand the spirit of Massachusetts toward its home industries, there is no disposition to interfere with anything but fraudulent stock sales. There is nothing fraudulent about a growing business, properly handled, in which hundreds of investors are interested and making money. It is only when money is lost that complaints are made. NEW SAFETY PAPER has made money for all its shareholders for 14 months, owing to the natural increase of the shares due to the accruing capital paid in and what that capital will accomplish. Nothing could be farther removed from fraud than your enterprise. If the Attorney-General wants to know anything about it he does not need to ask for any new law. All he has to do is to call for the information. We court investigation and have nothing to conceal. We have a legitimate business, which promises to make a new record in Boston enterprise. Some newspapers object to our publishing the facts because they seem too good to be true; but you, who have been through the investigation and seen the demonstration, know that we have a wonderful new chemical discovery of great value. IT'S WHITE.

The present value of the shares should double before the factory starts up. Tell your friends to investigate now. "There are no gains without pains." A month in NEW SAFETY PAPER is better than a year in cold storage.

RANDOLPH BANK ROBBER SLAIN

One of Gang Killed In Gun Fight in Omaha, Police Report

Word has been received from Omaha, Neb., by the Randolph police that one of the four gunsters who robbed the Randolph Savings Bank of $40,000 and escaped in an automobile, afterwards abandoned at Forest Hills, was killed in a gun fight in the western city.

He was known under the name of Adams, but his real name is supposed to be Appleby and he is believed to have lived in Brockton. At the time of the robbery it was said that the gang had headquarters in the shoe city.

Treasurer Coleman of the bank and his clerk, who were bound and gagged by the bandits, told the police that the leader of the gang was conspicuous because of his large pointed nose.

The letter from the Omaha police said that while no positive identification had been made, the same distinguishing feature was at once noticeable on the dead man.

HOUSE VOTES NOT TO ASK COURT FOR BEER ACTION

By a vote of 83 to 115, the House refused to adopt an order for an opinion of the Massachusetts Supreme Court as to the constitutionality of the proposed bills for 2.75 and 4 per cent. beer and light wines

"Engaged", Pair Wed Two Years Ago

Holyoke, April 2.—Miss Ruth Helen Sinclair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sinclair of Lincoln street, and Lewis Perkins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Perkins, also of this city, whose engagement was announced a month ago, have admitted to their families and friends that they were married two years ago and that the engagement was merely a camouflage.

It was the intentions of the couple to keep their marriage a secret until Perkins graduated from Williams College next year. Offers of a good position, which he has discontinued his studies to accept, resulted in the announcement.

100 WORCESTER WORKERS REFUSED INCREASE, QUIT

Worcester, April 2.—Refusal of the Eastern Bridge & Structural Company to grant a 25 per cent. increase in wages has resulted in a walkout of more than 100 of their employes, chiefly iron workers and painters. The demand was sent to the company about a week ago. The company posted notice refusing the demand and saying that anyone dissatisfied with his present work could quit.

BROKER WEDS IN AIR ROMANCE

Robert L. Ireland of N. Y. Met His Young Bride While Flying to Miami

Palm Beach, April 2.—Robert L. Ireland, of New York, immensely wealthy and one of the largest traders of the Stock Exchange, was stricken by Cupid in a romance which started in an airplane here some weeks ago, and today he took as his bride, Miss Mary Esther Wood, also of New York, daughter of the late John Pelton Wood.

The wedding was celebrated quietly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Thomas here, where Miss Wood had been a guest during the Winter.

Mr. Ireland, who is a Cleveland man and partner of Dan Hanna, met Miss Wood in an airplane while flying to Miami.

Three days ago Mr. Ireland, who is forty-two, received a telegram announcing that he was a grandfather. The message from his son in New York, lately an officer of the American Aviation Corps in France, read:

"Little boy has arrived. Made a forced landing, and nobody was hurt."

THE AWFUL DYNAMITE PLOT
Blood runs hot in the Kentucky mountains, where murder is not looked upon with the same horror as in some communities. In the First National picture,
IN OLD KENTUCKY
featuring Anita Stewart, to be shown at TREMONT TEMPLE next week (SEAT SALE SELLING). Horace Holton obtains some valuable mining property by fraud from Madge Brierly. Frank Lemon, a city chap, falls in love with Madge, finds out about the swindle and forces Holton to return the deed. Holton, to get revenge, tells Joe Loyer that Layson is the man who gave information to the revenue officers about Loyer's still. Loyer waylays Layson and after a fight, thinking he has killed him, places a stick of dynamite under the body to destroy all evidence. Madge witnesses the struggle from a distance and by a perilous ride, a leap across a dangerous stream, arrives just in time to rescue him.

AIRMEN WILL FLY TO HUB BANQUET

New York and Capital Fliers to Land at Weston for Aero Club's Dinner

The Aero Club of Massachusetts will hold its anniversary banquet at the Boston City Club, Saturday evening. During the day prominent airmen from Washington and New York are expected to land at the International Airdrome, Weston, to attend the dinner.

Colonel G. C. Brant, air service officer in the Eastern Department, will pilot a new military model De Haviland plane, 400 horsepower Liberty motor, from New York to Boston during the afternoon, and a speed record between the two cities is looked for. President Laurence LaT. Driggs, of the American Flying Club of New York, will also come by air route.

Colonel H. H. Harmey will fly from Washington in a plane which he has used over the battle lines in France. Other airmen are expected from various Eastern airdromes. They will be met by Colonel Leonard H. Dronan, air service officer of the Northeastern Department, who will take the air during the early afternoon and fly out to meet the aerial visitors and direct them to the safe landing field at Weston.

Work on the construction of hangars at Weston is being rushed and trees cleared to make the airdrome available for any type of aircraft that may visit here during the Aero Club festivities.

Measures That Would Cure Most of the Troubles and Tendencies Which Distress and Alarm Us Today

(1) To nominate for the Presidency by direct nomination and to elect by popular vote.
(2) To elect the Cabinet officers and make them responsible to Congress.
(3) To deprive the President of the power of patronage: to put public offices as nearly as possible under Civil Service, and have appointments made by a committee of Congress.
(4) To elect Federal Judges, including Supreme Court Justis, by popular vote.
(5) To apply the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall to national matters.

The Strange Lack of Insight of Man Who Ought to Know

According to Lord Robert Cecil, the American Senate is "that strange body." Lord Robert, addressing the Commons, drew cries of "Hear! Hear!" when he added:

I don't think our consideration of domestic questions should be guided by opinion across the Atlantic.

Though we disavow the adjective he applied to our Senate, the noble lord is quite right in his other statement.

The United States refuses to be guided by foreign opinion in its consideration of domestic questions, and it freely accords to other nations the same inherent right.

Not even foreign agents filling our press and lecture platform with propaganda, intriguing to gain access to our bank deposits or volunteering to assist us in picking a nominee for President can shake this resolution of the American people to conduct their home affairs in their own, independent American way.

In so doing it does nothing "strange" to the student of American history, for that has been the policy of this nation since its birth.

If there is anything strange about it, it is that a foreign statesman who ought to be informed on these matters should think it strange.

Our Senate would have been strange, indeed, if it had sanctioned a repudiation of this historic policy under which our country has been guided from its glorious birth into the greatest prosperity and power ever experienced by a nation.

There are plenty of things about the government of Great Britain which Americans think strange. The persistent denial of justice to Ireland, for instance.

And since this stupid treatment of Ireland is not primarily a domestic question, but essentially an international question, continually arising to vex and inflame world opinion, the American people as a liberty-loving people and their government as reflecting their views at least in its legislative branch have recorded their hope and their wish that wiser counsel would prevail in the Parliament of Great Britain.

This expression is not a product of ill will, but of a desire for the establishment of good will on the only basis that good will is possible—namely, justice.

It should be considered by those to whom it is addressed, because it is, in the first place, an honest and candid expression, and, secondly, because it is shared by enlightened men and women wherever the spirit of free institutions has found lodgment.

If in a matter which so largely affects the future of liberal progress throughout the world a frank opinion from the American people is resented in the ruling circle of Great Britain, how can good will among the nations be promoted?

When our forefathers threw off an oppressive foreign yoke, they appealed to and won the endorsement of the enlightened opinion of mankind.

That tribunal is still effective. Governments ignore it at their peril. The government whose case is consciously sound and just is eager to appeal to this tribunal, knowing that public opinion is the greatest moral force and factor in the universe.

Lord Robert Cecil, scion of an illustrious family in his nation, has been quoted as one of the hopeful leaders in the Britain of today.

He has been eulogized as a Conservative by inheritance who has grown liberal under the teaching of events, a type of leadership from which much may often be expected. But he now shows himself singularly lacking not only in information, but also in insight.

Apparently he is without accurate knowledge of American history and of the political traditions by which that history is enriched, and also deficient in sympathy with the currents of opinion everywhere.

That is a sad condition for him personally, but it is yet sadder for the government for which he speaks.

Imbroglio in Nomenclature From Which We're Free

As the European situation gradually shapes itself—or, to be more accurate, develops its lack of shape—it becomes increasingly clear that we were mighty lucky not to be drawn deeper into the mess.

"With the Sultan in an Anatolian city," announces a dispatch from Paris, "it would be necessary to keep allied troops in Anatolia or leave the Sultan to his own devices, as Mustapha Kemal is left now."

The situation, the dispatch goes on to say, is complicated by the proclaiming of Emir Said as King of Mesopotamia. Inasmuch as Mesopotamia is not bounded on the east, west, north or south by Ohio or Missouri, there does not seem to be much reason why we should help to complicate the complication.

The fact that "Mustapha Kemal is left now" is pregnant with dire borebodings for all true Americans. It is even worse than Emir Said. Because, you see, if Emir Said he Mustapha Kemal what is to prevent D'Annunzio from saying that he must have a highball? And, in view of the activities of the Federal agents and the agents of the Anti-Saloon League, the undertaking would be fraught with danger.

If President Wilson Said he Mustapha Beer we would all be shocked. Why, therefore, should we supinely accept from European potentates what we refuse to accept from our own sovereign? It is the "Mustapha" which grates upon American sensitiveness. If Emir Said he would like a Kemal or a cocktail or would be deeply grateful if somebody gave him one, we might sympathize with him. But where does he get that "Mustapha" business?

More Truth Than Poetry

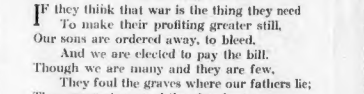
"We, the People"

By S. E. KISER

WE dig for those who want digging done,
And we take whatever they choose to give;
The moon's their moon, the sun's their sun,
It is by their favor that we may live.
Though we are many and they are few,
They loll in luxuries we supply;
They shackle me and they burden you,
They name the purpose we may pursue,
And still we stand for it, you and I.

THEY tell us what we may think or say,
They tell us when we may come or go;
They fix the prices that we must pay,
They reap the crops that we have to sow;
Their wives are fat and their daughters proud,
Their acres wide and their castles high;
They own the hovels where tenants crowd,
Their frowns are dark and their orders loud,
And still we stand for it, you and I.

IF they think that war is the thing they need
To make their profiting greater still,
Our sons are ordered away, to bleed.
And we are elected to pay the bill.
Though we are many and they are few,
They foul the graves where our fathers lie;
They sneer at me and they laugh at you—
Let us place the blame where the blame is due—
It is we who stand for it, you and I.



SPRING SONG

Sweet Spring is here, with scents of musk,
The pussy willow's ripe,
The frogs begin to pipe at dusk—
Or is it frogs that pipe?

IMPORTANT DETAILS LACKING

A man who claims that he has tried it says it is impossible to follow the Golden Rule in business. Unfortunately, he doesn't explain whether the fault lies with business or with the Golden Rule.

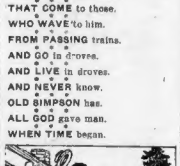
UP IN the hills.
WHERE THE train climbs high.
ON ITS noisy way.
THROUGH MOUNTAIN tops.
OLD SIMPSON lives.
AND HE'S been there.
SO MANY years.
THAT MEMORIES' path.
OF OTHER years.
BEFORE HE came.
HAS GROWN dim.
AND HE must search.
WITH MENTAL eyes.
ERE HE can see.
THOSE OTHER days.
AND I'VE been there.
WHERE SIMPSON lives.
AND TALKED with him.
AND LOOKING down.
WE SAW the train.
COME WINDING up.
A GREAT long train.
WITH BUFFET car.
AND DINING cars.
AND PULLMAN cars.
AND AT its end.
THE PLATFORM place.
AND WAVING hands.
AND SIMPSON waved.
AND SO he's waved.
SINCE FIRST it came.
AND NEVER known.
TO WHOM he waved.
AND NEVER cared.
THAT WHO they were.
WENT ON their way.
AND LEFT him there.
AND ON the day.
THAT I was there.
AND WATCHED the train.
GO PUFFING by.
HE TALKED to me.
OF WHERE it was.
THE TRAIN went to.
AND OF the folk.
WHO WAVED to him.
AND WHERE they lived.
AND HOW they lived.
AND SAID to me.
THAT IT must be.
THEY DON'T know.
WHAT JOY there was.
WHERE HIS home was.
OR THEY would stop.
AND CLIMB the hill.
AND SIT with him.
AND LOOK across.
TO SNOWY peaks.
AND THEN look down.
WHERE VALLEYS lie.
AND GREEN grass grows.
AND BLOSSOMED trees
PLEDGE AUTUMN fruit.
AND THERE he's lived.
AND THERE he'll die.
AND NEVER know.
THE TROUBLED days.
THAT COME to those.
WHO WAVE to him.
FROM PASSING trains.
AND GO in droves.
AND LIVE in droves.
AND NEVER know.
OLD SIMPSON has.
ALL GOD gave man.
WHEN TIME began.



I THANK you.

NAGGING WIFE KILLS HUSBAND'S SPIRIT

By Winifred Black

"MY husband is a good man. He has never said an unkind word to me since I've been his wife. He is hard-working, devoted, honest, but he is a drudge—just a plain, everyday drudge—and he will never be anything else.

"My schoolgirl companions who married when I did have gone on and on with their husbands. One of them has an automobile, one has a beautiful home of her own, and one has just gone to Europe on a pleasure trip—and here I am, tied down to drudge in the same house we took when we were married. I simply can't stand it!

"I have a chance now to go into business for myself. It will take me away from home, but I am going to put my girls in school and go; wouldn't you?"

Nice, confidential letter, isn't it? And the worst of it is that it is miserably, undeniably true, every single word of it, and then some more.

What does your husband have to make him "ambitious," dear woman? How do you help him? Pray tell. By nagging him and making fun of him? That's a good way, isn't it?

Why don't you try another one for a change?

Have you tried believing in the drudge to see what that would do? You can't nag a man at home and expect him to bear himself like a man away from home. It takes courage and spirit and will power to fight a way up in the world, and if you take all these things out of a man before he leaves the house, what weapons has he to make the fight?

What shall you do?

Why, what in the name of common sense is there for you to do but stick to your bargain and make the best of it?

Forget all this "higher ideal" twaddle, stop thinking of the automobile you can't get and go to work—here—in the place where you belong, in your own home, with your own children and the man who loves them.

Letters to the Editor

Like Roosevelt

Editor Boston American:

In your editorial of March 29 about Hiram Johnson you have hit the bullseye plumb in the centre. Senator Johnson compares more favorably with Theodore Roosevelt than any other man in the country. He is bold, fearless, forceful and eloquent in argument. He stands as the peer of Roosevelt in his unalloyed Americanism, and no man ever questioned that. His object is always that of truth, justice and equality. He says that he stands for free speech, free press and the right of lawful assembly. These are the foundation rocks upon which our government was built. We want a candidate who will keep this foundation firm, and not one who is likely to move it on to the quicksands of European politics.

Would Wish to Stay

Editor Boston American:

If the boys who gave their all on the field of honor in France following Old Glory could but speak again it is without question that they would request to be left where they so gallantly fell for humanity's sake. Is it not better for those of us who have dear ones lying at rest over there to remember them as they were when they left us, gallant, strong and fearless, rather than the ghastly contrast that is sure to confront us if they are returned a silent mass within a common wooden box? Will the contents of that box over which you will weep contain your loved one or a stranger? Or will it be one of the enemy? No, there is no way of your assuring yourself.

Let us get together as real Americans and request Congress to appropriate money for a beautiful cemetery in France that will forever be a monument in commemoration of their sacred sacrifices instead of the inhuman act of removing them from the ground which they consecrated with their lives.

Fine Fight Coming
Question for Mr. Hoover
Four Children Too Many
And "One Juicy Melon"

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1920.

The next Presidential election may be as interesting and complicated as anything in Europe, Asia or Africa.

There is little doubt that you will see one independent party going it alone. There may also be independent Democrat fighting the regular Democrat, and an independent Republican giving an imitation of Theodore Roosevelt's fight against Taft.

To those add the possibility of a prohibition candidate coming out to rebuke the wets, and a wet candidate, and you have an interesting program.

Mr. Hoover having kindly said that he would accept the Presidency if the whole country felt that it could not get along without him, is beginning to hear from those that think they could do without him very nicely.

One Republican authority wants to know where he gets the money that he is spending on his campaign. That is the popular question now.

Senator Gronna says that Hoover kept from the farmers two thousand millions that they might have got for their wheat.

Hiram Johnson wants to know whether Hoover ever cast a vote in America in his life? He might also ask whether Hoover ever voted in England.

New York has organized a Hoover committee of the "forward looking" type that Hoover says he admires. The committee is of the kind that looks forward to ending high income tax and shifting the burden to the shoulders of people of small means. That committee includes a daughter of the distinguished lawyer who wanted to know why all the Irish didn't go back to Ireland and stay there?

The ordinary American woman, mother of children, and who worried about food and the lack of white bread during the war, might ask Mr. Hoover, "Mr. Hoover, while you were telling American mothers to economize on food for their children in order to help Belgian children, why did you allow tens of thousands of tons of the best oats to be fed every day to race horses used only as gambling machines? Those horses, if they had been turned out to grass, the oats saved would have fed hundreds of thousands of children every day. And you had the power to stop it.

"Why did you allow your prosperous horse racing friends to continue their waste of food that children needed while urging mothers of children to economize?"

If Mr. Hoover cannot answer that question satisfactorily, and he can't, he will lose the votes of many American women to whom facts mean more than platitudes.

The legislators that expelled five men from the New York State lawmaking body because they were Socialists were, of course, acting under orders. The orders came from rich men, ignorant and foolish enough to imagine that you can suppress dissatisfaction or thought permanently. Young Theodore Roosevelt knew better. He certainly has no sympathy for Socialists of Socialism. But he spent hours trying to keep his fellow Republicans from temporarily voting a party out of existence and depriving tens of thousands of citizens of representation.

What do the prosperous ones guilty of this stupidity here and expect that the Socialists will do? They know what happened in Russia, France and elsewhere when free speech and free formation of parties were forbidden.

Compare two pieces of news.

The Continental Oil Company "cuts large and juicy melon for stockholders." Sixty thousand shares of new stock are handed out to stockholders, each one receiving two new shares for each old share. The stock will pay 12 per cent. on par and is therefore worth on a 6 per cent. basis twelve millions of dollars.

Twelve million dollars earned and accumulated by one company handed out to stockholders, and they pay not a dollar in income tax, thanks to a Supreme Court decision.

The other piece of news comes from Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Estelle Tillman, a widow, has six children, from one to twelve years of age.

A falling tree killed her husband. She wants somebody to adopt four of her children, all boys; she will keep the two youngest and help to support them.

You can do some moralizing on those two pieces of news, adding the interesting fact that a Republican government is about to cut down the high income tax on surplus profits by about one thousand and one hundred million dollars a year. To make up for it small taxes will be increased and new ones invented. And Mrs. Tillman will be permitted to contribute her share through indirect taxation.
